Memorial Day in Hicksville

A Time for Remembering

AMANDA IMHOF, poppy queen of the William M. Gouse Jr. Post 3211 Veterans of Foreign Wars stands before the VFW contingent prior to the parade.

CONRAD STEERS, past post commander of Post 3211 VFW, grand marshal, leads the parade.

During a time already saddened with the USS Stark's losses, Hicksville recalled with parade and ceremony, the eternal cost of a nation's liberty and honor, this past Memorial Day. One of the larger parades in recent years was followed by a solemn and moving ceremony and services at the Hicksville Veterans' Monuments site.

The parade and memorial services were sponsored by the Hicksville Combined Veterans Organizations, with the Charles Wagner Post 421 in charge of arrangements. Past commander Frank Molinari was the program chairman, assisted by Past commander Wesley Tietjen, and the post sergeant at arms, Gregory Bennett.

Richard Evers, of the American Legion, was the master of ceremonies for the memorial program. Among the honored guests, in addition to Gold Star Mothers, Mary Maneski, Tecka Gunther and Libertad Kozma, were councilman Thomas Clark, school board president; William Bennett, school trustee; Carol Wolfe; Dr. Catherine Fenten, superintendent of schools; editor and publisher Sheila Noeth and Anthony Frevite, president of the Hicksville Community Council. The grand marshal of the parade was Conrad Steers, past president of the Nassau Chapter Vietnam Veterans of America and a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Hicksville.

Among many organization marching from Sears to the school were the American Legionnaires, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Masonic War Veterans, Vietnam Veterans of America, the Knights of Columbus, Hicksville Elks and Eldoes, many Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, the Hicksville Little Leaguers and the Hicksville Fire Department under the direction of Chief William Schuckman.

The services which were held at the junior high school immediately followed the parade with the principal speaker being Dr. Leo Kanawada, an educator, Hicksville native, high school alumnus, and a captain of infantry in Vietnam. Two guest speakers from Hicksville High School were James Frest and Catherine Eberle. The combined high school and junior high school bands provided the music and the Reverend Douglas MacDonal, pastor of Parkway Community Church, closed the services with prayer.

Our Lady of Mercy School Wins Honors

Our Lady of Mercy School, Hicksville, has been selected for honors in the State Education Department's Elementary School Recognition Program. This first state-level recognition program spotlights elementary schools throughout the state that have demonstrated they are unusually successful in using effective school characteristics developed by the education department.

The purpose of the recognition program is to identify and spotlight elementary schools in New York which are unusually successful. For a school to be recognized, there must be clear evidence that its atmosphere is orderly, purposeful and conducive to teaching and learning. The school should demonstrate that academic goals are based on school needs and defined through curricula designed to facilitate student learning.

In addition, there should be strong administrative leadership and an effective working relationship among the school, parents and other community members. The school should demonstrate attentiveness to the quality of instruction and the professionalism of the teaching staff. Evidence should be given that teachers, administrators, parents and community members are involved in a collaborative process of education decision making and planning.

Finally, for a school to be recognized, there must be a strong commitment to education excellence for all students, together with a record of progress in sustaining its best features and solving problems.

Award-winning schools had to meet one of the following three criteria:

- Consistent achievement levels—During each of the last three years, at least 75 percent of the students must have achieved at or above grade level in mathematics or reading.
- Improving achievement levels—During each of the last three years, the number of students who achieved at or above grade level in mathematics and reading must have increased by an average of five percent annually, and in the last year, 50 percent or more of the students must have achieved at or above grade level in both areas.
- Exception—Schools whose test scores do not meet either of these eligibility standards but who still wish to apply, must give compelling evidence of school improvement or effectiveness.

Our Lady of Mercy School will be honored by Commissioner Ambach at a presentation luncheon in the Turf Inn, Albany, on June 12.

'New You Diet Tips'

By RUTH WISE and HARRIET BLANK

The "New You Diet" Program is designed to help you lose weight safely and effectively. Approximately 34 million Americans—around one-sixth of the population—need to reduce their weight. Improving your appearance may be your primary motivation for dieting but you should be equally concerned with your health.

Statistics show that people of average weight have a longer life span, have more energy, and usually feel better than people who are overweight. The more you know about your own body and about nutrition, the easier it will be to make the right decisions for yourself.

Today we examine two of the most basic elements in your diet, water and salt, and tell you how to manage them to your best advantage.

Water (H₂O)

Water accounts for roughly two-thirds of body weight and is by far the most important nutrient. It is involved in every body process. It aids in digestion, regulates body temperature and transports nutrients and body wastes. The average adult body contains about 54 quarts of water and loses 3 quarts each day through excretion and perspiration.

Fruits and vegetables are especially good sources of chemically pure water. In addition, you should drink 4-6 glasses of water every day. Aside from aiding your body's internal functioning, you will notice your complexion becoming clearer and more vibrant.

Salt (Sodium Chloride)

Sodium is an essential mineral found in fluids that flow through the blood vessels; arteries, veins and capillaries. It helps regulate water balance within the body and aids in nerve stimulation. If you are eating a balanced diet, you will get all the sodium you need from seafoods, carrots, beets, poultry and meat.

If you use table salt, you are probably taking in far more sodium than you need. The National Academy of Sciences suggest that a sodium intake per day between 1,100 and 3,300 milligrams for an adult is safe and adequate. Just one teaspoon of salt contains 2,000 milligrams of sodium! An excess of sodium can cause hypertension, abnormal fluid retention, dizziness and swelling. One of the best things you can do for yourself is to shake the salt habit!

Save on Sodium

Instead of	(mg)	Reach for	(mg)
Cottage Cheese	(457) 4 oz.	Milk	(122) 8 oz.
Dill Pickle	(928)	Cucumber	(2)

Even frozen diet dinners contain between 900 and 1,100 milligrams of sodium! Get in the habit of reading labels and familiarizing your self with the nutrient content of the foods you eat. Try our delicious Chicken Yakitori:

Yakitori

(Broiled Skewered chicken)

- 2 whole chicken breasts (skinned and boned)
- 1 large onion
- 1/2 pound fresh mushrooms
- 1 green pepper (optional)
- 3/4 cup water
- low-salt soy sauce (optional)
- ginger, garlic powder
- seasoning to taste

In a large bowl, mix together water, soy sauce and spices. Halve breasts lengthwise, then cut each half into 1 inch strips widthwise. Cut onion and pepper into eighths lengthwise; cut mushrooms in half lengthwise. Place chicken and vegetables in soy sauce mixture, cover and marinate at least 1 hour, (may be left in refrigerator overnight).

Beginning with a piece of onion, alternate ingredients on skewers, ending with a cherry tomato. Broil about 5 minutes on each side, or until done, turning once.

"New You Diet" Tip of The Week: Ask yourself this, "Do I want to live a long, happy and healthy life?" If you start taking care of yourself today, you may give yourself many more years to enjoy the company of your spouse, children and grandchildren. Do it for them! Do it for you!

The "New You Diet" Classes meet at:
 • Sterns Mid Island Plaza, Hicksville 3rd floor employees lounge Wednesdays 9:30 p.m.
 • Woodbury Lanes, South Oyster Bay Road Foodtown Shopping Plaza Wednesdays 9:00 a.m.
 If you would like further information on "New You Diet" classes in Queens and Nassau please call (718) 465-5104 or (516) 365-4340.

Legionnaires' Log

By GREG BENNETT
Charles Wagner Post #421, Hicksville

Memorial Day weekend was a very solemn and busy time for Legionnaires as our nation remembered our war dead. On Thursday, Commander Christo led Hicksville Legionnaires in the Nassau County First Annual Veterans Invitational Parade, which honored Korean War veterans, at Veterans Memorial Park in East Meadow. On Sunday morning we attended the annual memorial service of the United Veterans Organization of Hicksville at Hicksville Plainlawn Cemetery.

Legionnaires then went to Holy Rood Cemetery in Westbury to honor Charles A. Wagner for whom our post is named. Wagner was assigned to an ammunition train in the Verdun sector of France during World War I and was severely wounded on September 30, 1918 losing both legs engaging the enemy. On October 2, 1918, Wagner succumbed to his wounds at Base Hospital #31, Contrezeville, France.

PC Ray Gamble and Greg Bennett attended the United Veterans Organization of Nassau County Memorial Service on Sunday at Eisenhower Park. PC Dick Hochbrueckner attended the 51st Annual Memorial Service on Sunday at Long Island National Cemetery at Pinelawn.

The Hicksville Annual Memorial Day Parade and Service was hosted by our post on Monday, May 25. PC Artie Rutz, PC Ray Gamble, PC John Rizos and Sergeant-at-arms Greg Bennett led the parade as members of the Legion color guard. PC Frank Molinari was the parade chairman and PC Wesley Tietjen was the assistant chairman. Sergeant-at-arms Greg Bennett was also on the parade committee. Americanism chairman Dick Evers was the master of ceremonies and read General Order No. 11. Commander Harry Christo led off the service with the Pledge of Allegiance. PC Wes Tietjen led other Legionnaires serving hot dogs and refreshments after the service.

Our personal thanks to the Memorial Day Committee who worked very hard. Our thanks to the veteran and community groups who marched in the parade and participated in the service. You make our community work. Our thanks to local businesses that hung up parade notices. Our thanks to Robert Chevrolet for providing parade cars and Harbor Distributing for providing refreshments.

The Nassau County American Legion Convention will be June 5, 6 and 7 at the Massapequa post. Come out and support our own PC Dick Hochbrueckner who is a nominee for county commander.

We are seeking new members and encourage members to attend our meetings at the VFW, 320 South Broadway, Hicksville. Meetings are the first and third Monday of each month at 8 p.m. Remember we serve our veterans, our community and nation. Next meeting is June 15.

This column is dedicated to the soldiers, sailors and airmen of the Allied Expeditionary Force, under the command of Supreme Allied Commander General Dwight D. Eisenhower, who participated in the D-Day landings of 6 June 1944. As Winston Churchill said, "We shall go back," and deGaulle said, "France is not alone." These gallant fighting forces paved the way for the return of liberty to Europe.

We also remember the crew of the USS Stark and our POW/MIA's.

Pregnancy & Childbirth The Winthrop Approach

The most frequently asked questions

Q. How will pregnancy change my life?

A. Pregnancy is an extraordinarily different experience for any woman. As you take on the responsibility for the baby growing inside of you, it is critically important that you receive proper health care as soon as possible. Your physician or nurse-midwife will give you specific instruction about diet, exercise and other modifications in your lifestyle that may be advisable. And now is the time to think about the kind of delivery and services you will want a hospital to provide. Remember, this wonderful time encompasses all of life...joy and a little sadness...well-being and some discomfort...and the awareness you stand on the threshold of an extraordinary human event.

Q. How do I prepare for childbirth?

A. You need to prepare in three ways: emotionally, nutritionally and physically. You can prepare emotionally by being careful in your choice of physician and hospital. You should feel that both of them care about you and your needs. To prepare nutritionally, you should follow your doctor's nutritional guidelines and make sure that you are eating a balanced diet. And remember that anything you take into your body is also shared by your baby. To prepare your body for childbirth, you should get regular exercise that is approved by your physician and plan to attend childbirth classes at the hospital where your baby will be born.

Q. Where is the best place for me to have my baby?

A. The best place to have your baby is a setting which can give you the most options for a safe and pleasant experience. You should choose a hospital which offers a wide range of educational programs, birthing and neonatal facilities along with comprehensive support services. This care should be family centered; that is, it should include the needs of the whole family: mother, father, siblings and baby with a high degree of medical and technical expertise.

Watch for Part II

The Maternal Child Care Center at Winthrop-University Hospital offers a complete range of services for the entire family, under one roof. Special programs and facilities include genetic counseling, a neonatal intensive care unit, perinatal care for women with high risk pregnancies, and childbirth classes. In addition to our nurse-midwife program, we offer birthing rooms, post-partum suites and special waiting facilities for expectant fathers.

If you are pregnant, or considering pregnancy, call (516) 663-2858 or write for a brochure about our facilities and services. We would like to answer all your questions.

Special Reading Program at Willet Avenue School

May is the "Month of the Reader" at Willet Avenue School, Hicksville. Principal Michael Dunn planned a series of activities as part of the Parents as Reading Partners program, and response has been most enthusiastic.

The project was launched with an all-day presentations in which students and parents from each grade level met in the library media center. The program and its objectives were outlined by Mr. Dunn, reading teacher Rhoda Ratner, and librarian Rosemary Barrow. Each child was given a calendar on which to record at least 15 minutes a day of reading together. Seventy-four parents attended the meeting—a really outstanding turnout.

In addition, there are special activities each week. One is a period of sustained silent reading, in which at a designated time, everyone in the school, students and staff, read for pleasure.

There are two afternoons set aside in the library for Book-Swap Time, in which students donate books, receiving a ticket for each volume contributed, and then redeem their tickets at the swap. At the first of the swaps, hundreds of titles exchanged hands.

Finally, there is a contest to identify story-book characters or objects from a display in the library, with follow-up research on author and title.

WILLET AVENUE'S "Identify the Characters" Contest provided a challenge for first graders Vanessa Stanley, Chris Woolard, Amanda Ayers, Dana Parente, Effie Stamatinos, Daniel Koloski, and Lessa Yu.

AT EACH GRADE level meeting, the Willet Avenue School Library was crowded with parents for the Parents as Reading Partners Program. (Photos by Rosemary Barrow)

MAKING A SELECTION at the Willet Avenue, Book Swap are Chirag Boradia, Lori Masterson, Angel Jim and Tommy Coffey.

East Street School Students Visit Zoo

Second grade students at East Street School recently visited the Bronx Zoo. In addition to taking the Safari Train ride, riding the Bengali, Express Monorail, and visiting Jungle World, they saw the pandas from China on display. Prior to the visit to the pandas, the children in Mrs. Kreditor's class studied the habits and habitat of the pandas. They collected recent articles published about Ling Ling and Yong Yong. The students were quite excited about their visit. As a culminating activity, each child made a panda mask and wrote stories about their trip to the Bronx Zoo.

The East Street Elementary School recently held its Rope Hang Contest for the first graders, under the direction of physical education teachers Brad Jaworski and Arlene Preisick.

The children had to hang from the climbing rope using hands only. They were timed with a stopwatch from when their hands clasped the rope, to when their feet touched down to the mat underneath.

The winners were each awarded ribbons donated by the East Street P.T.A. Ribbons were awarded for first, second and third places for both boys and girls.

The winners were Marc Dimov, first place, Sherief Elbedewe, second place, and Eric Micalizzi, third place. In the girls' division, the winners were Christine Caiazzo, first place, Christa Scibelli, second place, and Allison D'Allmonte, third place.

Letters From Our Readers

To The Editor:

I would appreciate your printing the following message to the citizens of Hicksville concerning the Hicksville Gregory Museum and its relationship with Union Free School District #17.

In 1969, when the Town of Oyster Bay offered the Gregory Trustees the vandalized Heitz Place Courthouse in return for its restoration, Hicksville rose to the challenge. Hundreds of volunteers donated time, labor, and materials. The result: Hicksville's only registered national historic place, Long Island's finest earth science museum, and research and preservation of much that might have been forgotten or discarded relating to local heritage.

Of course, once the momentum of the exciting restoration was over, and the day to day functioning of the museum began, we had to face some hard, cold facts. A museum does not run on dedication alone. Professional help must be paid. LILCO does not give cut rates to museums. Liability insurance bills come in staggering denominations. An old building needs constant repair. Donations and volunteers become less plentiful.

With no monetary assistance from town or county, and no endowments, the museum never could establish a firm financial base. Year by year, we obtained grants from a variety of sources, and sponsored all manner of events to generate income. However, by 1979 we knew that our small group could not continue without help. Professional fundraising consultants reported there was no way we could raise the needed dollars in Hicksville. The museum was reluctantly offered to the town, the county, the school district, and the public library - with no takers. It was forced to close for almost a year.

Finally, the Hicksville School Board agreed to a "Service Contract" at $30,000 a year, later raised to $40,000. In return, all Hicksville residents, children and adults are admitted free at all times. School tours of the museum or of historic sights in Hicksville, Outreach Programs, exhibits in the schools and library, In-Service courses for teachers, student intern programs, help with school reports, research projects, or scout badge work are all provided free of other charge. Museum historian Richard Evers will soon publish a monumental volume, meticulously detailed and profusely illustrated, recording Hicksville's growth.

Not only the schools, but the entire community benefits. For $40,000 a year, Hicksville has the full services of a fine museum at its disposal. It also gives our youngsters a sense of local pride and belonging. Last Saturday, a Cub Scout group came at 11 to prepare flower beds. Boy Scouts and neighbors had already done the major spring clean-up. The Brownies, due at 12 to plant their flowers, were temporarily rained out. At 1:30 there was a workshop for young fossil enthusiasts, and at 3 about 30 budding entomologists met for instruction, discussion and distribution of cocoons and literature sent from Maine by Dr. Gregory. Some are involved in an ecology project to preserve rare species. Meanwhile, young and adult visitors admired the exhibits, guided on their tours by a volunteer from Hicksville Junior High. A senior citizen manned the gift shop.

At the Hicksville School Board meeting of May 20, Trustees Nagle, Schwartz and Arena voted to cut the museum's contract by $10,000 - a very small portion of a $42 million budget, but of vital importance to the museum. I have no doubt each of these gentlemen following his conscience in trying for a tight school budget, just as we "pinch our pennies" at the museum, but to cite a more objective opinion than my own - in evaluating our recent proposal to the Institute of Museum Services, one reviewer commented that at $40,000 the Hicksville School District "is certainly getting a bargain".

I was disturbed, though, by Mr. Nagle's admonishment that the museum should not depend entirely upon the school district. This gives the impression that we are not actively seeking and raising other funds. Our annual expenses, at a barely subsistence level, are at least $75,000, assuming that much work is done by volunteers.

As hard as we work to raise money through grant writing, fundraisers, services to other school districts, memberships, donations from businesses, we truly need the sustained help of the school district in providing a dependable base for the modest salaries we pay our staff. We cannot, in fairness, sign a contract with a curator or director on the hope that a grant will come through, or a fundraiser will be successful.

The purpose of all this is to appeal to the residents of Hicksville for support. The vote on May 20 was tied 3-3. Mr. Nagle indicated that he would again propose to cut the museum contract on June 3, but also that he would be receptive to input from the community. If you want to preserve the landmark courthouse (which, incidentally, brings visitors and business to the area, as well as cultural recognition) then please inform the members of the school board of your feelings.

Come to the public hearing on the school budget on June 3. Remind your neighbors to register on June 10. Vote on the budget on June 17. And remember, a vote "for" the budget is a vote for The Hicksville Gregory Museum. Rosemary Barrow

To The Editor:

Your recent article and photos of Huettner's brought back many memories.

Although I presently live in Plainville, I grew up and married in Hicksville. I purchased many items in Huettner's Department Store and much is still in use in my home. (married 38 years)

An aunt of mine from New Jersey visited us in Hicksville quite often. When she arrived, one of the special "happenings" for her was walk up the "village" and a stop at Huettner's. We loved looking at everything in the store.

It was a sad time for me to see that building demolished along with all the other stores, I was so fond of, on Broadway. Frances Steigley

To The Editor:

Welcome to beautiful Hicksville! As you leave Plainville, traveling east on Old Country Road, you will be welcomed by the sight of dump trucks and landscaping trucks parked in Waldbaum's Shopping Center parking lot all night and just about all day. Check the abandoned furniture, garbage, rubbish and other waste strewn about the trucks and the parking lot. But don't stop there. Travel just one block further along Plainview Road where it forks away from Old Country Road, and at the corner of South Gate you can feast your eyes on a variety of abandoned cars, four at the latest count, parked along what is supposed to be a playground for Hicksville residents. Is Hicksville being dumped on. I think so!

Host Families Needed

Four hundred French, German and Spanish teenagers are due to arrive in New York State this summer, but so far only half of them have homes for their month-long visits.

Homes are urgently needed for the foreign students, say Stephen and Alice Murphy, state coordinators of Nacel Cultural Exchange, a non-profit international organization run by European and American language teachers.

The students are fully insured, have their own spending money and have a minimum of four years of English. Their purpose in coming is to experience the American way of life, families need not have teenagers to apply for the program.

The first group of students will arrive June 30 and stay until July 28; the second group will arrive July 27 and stay until August 24.

Hosting a student does not require much entertainment, say Murphys. It's the everyday experience—eating corn on the cob, tasting root beer, visiting McDonald's, or going to a pool party—that are new and interesting to the visitors, they say.

"The students are always astonished and delighted by the openness of the American society and its informality—especially in the summer," says Stephen a French teacher.

Any family interested in hosting or wishing further information is asked to contact: Eileen & Jim Buflion, 17 Hawk Lane, Hauppauge, NY 11788, 724-7138.

Letters From Our Readers

To The Editor:

In recent years the poverty level in America has risen dramatically. Recession, unemployment and budget cuts in social programs have all combined to force more Americans into the ranks of the impoverished. Nearly one in five children are poor. Households headed by women are three times as likely to be poor. Thirty-three million Americans still live in poverty.

Against this background, the 100th Congress is debating how to reform the welfare system. Increasingly, the debate centers on getting people off welfare and into the workforce. This welfare-to-work philosophy ignores the fact that the unemployment rate has not gone below 6% in the past six years and fails to recognize the many working poor whose jobs do not pay income above the poverty level.

The League of Women Voters believes in a multifaceted approach to ending poverty. It will seek from Congress comprehensive reform, which must increase benefit levels which have been eroded by budget cuts, in order to assure adequate food, clothing and shelter. Welfare reform must also provide voluntary education and training programs that will help welfare recipients gain self-sufficiency. It should also include support services like child care and health care for recipients while they make the transition from welfare to the workforce.

Stop Pretending Come To Get Help

Bill Fenty, President of TDM Union Local 12455, is a Traffic Device Maintainer. He's got brains and he's got guts. Bill Fenty can tell the world that he's never been able to read, and what's more, he's doing something about it now.

A short while back Bill took a routine medical screening arranged by his local union for the men who use a lot of solvents and chemicals that can injure the brain and nerves. Testing revealed neither neurological damage nor a learning disability. "Since I always had trouble reading and writing, the doctors suggested I be tested for dyslexia. That's the first time I heard the term. The Intersensory Learning and Diagnostic Center found me to be a moderate-to-severe dyslexic. I began remedial tutoring."

School was hell for Bill, as for many unidentified dyslexics, because his teachers were not prepared to provide the special approach that facilitates learning. Bill confides, "The teacher gave up on me. When the class was reading and writing, I was assigned to decorate the room. I was very artistic, and other teachers would pat me on the head and say what a nice job I had done - but nobody cared if I could read or write. When I got 100 on a math test, I was accused of cheating—because to the teacher, I was a "dummy". To cope with the constant giggling and name-calling from other kids, I became a tough guy. If they called me a name, I punched them in the nose. So instead of a dummy, the teachers considered me a delinquent. In seventh grade, the principal told my mother that the only reason they were promoting me was to kick me out of school sooner."

Bill went to vocational school where he "took to electrical work like a fish to water." He graduated with honors, but felt like a cheat "because I still couldn't read and write." In the Air Force, Bill earned the highest grade ever on the journeyman electrician test.

True stories as well as fairy tales can have happy endings, as this one proves. Bill is a star pupil of Shirli Kohn, Director of the Intersensory Learning & Diagnostic Center, Great Neck.

"With the help of my tutor, I've started over with the basics—building up from the sounds of the letters to spelling, reading and writing skills - in one-on-one sessions once a week. For the first time in my life, I find reading enjoyable. When I read a word that I couldn't in the past, a smile comes across my face and I say a silent, "Thank you," to my tutor."

Shirli Kohn can truthfully claim to have given support, encouragement, and remediation to hundreds of individuals who have come through the doors of Center in the past 14 years. Now the Center is offering a free program in Glen Cove through Project Literacy/Outreach. Miss Kohn has trained 17 volunteers who are ready to help individuals, regardless of race, color, age or creed.

If you're reading this and know somebody who can't please call Lucille Curtler, Project Coordinator, at 676-7000.

A Letter from Lulabelle...

...My good friend who is one of those who tries to keep me up-to-date, tells me that I must stop saying "Beauty Parlor" because that's out and what's de rigueur today is "hairstylist"...And that started me thinking about early days when the sign on the window did say "Beauty Parlor"...Do you remember what permanent wave machines looked like?...If ever there was a resemblance to a torture chamber, this was it...There was a big cylinder of metal high up on a pole and from it dropped, on wires, these metal cylinders like tentacles of some weird beast...These cylinders fitted over the curlers that the beautician wound into your hair, and then, after applying the lotion, the cylinders became hot and I suppose, set the curl...there you sat with your head covered by the upright cylinders, all attached overhead...I have often wondered what would have happened if the place caught on fire!!!...then there was the "marcel"...That was a kind of bumpy wave achieved by a curling iron which was two pieces of wavy metal which came together rather like the two halves of a waffle iron—and maybe that's not such a bad comparison, because we certainly looked "waffled" after this treatment...That gave way to the finger wave...Really good beauty operators could cover your head with a very heavy goeey setting lotion and then using only their fingers, push these flat waves into your locks, which when dried, resembled the beach sand when you have run a rake in a wavy pattern—all completely flat to the head...And do you remember that beauty parlors always had curtains around the booths—and, perish forbid, there was none of this "Unisex" business...The curtains were to give privacy to those who were having dye jobs (remember "henna")...because only "loose women" dyed their hair...It's all a long way from "blow dry" and those ghastly tight permanents in vogue today.

Yours, Lulabelle

The Investor's Corner

By JOSEPH P. FREY, Ph.D.

Closed End Mutual Funds

Long time readers of this column know that I believe that the average investor should invest in mutual funds.

The vast majority of funds are open end funds. This simply means that the fund management stands ready to redeem any and all shares that they have sold. Some will give instant redemption, others have some small time delays if everyone wants out at the same time. The open end fund can, and most do, sell unlimited share at net asset value. A small few do restrict the sale of their shares because they feel that the fund has grown too large to be effectively managed. Of course some of these are the very funds into which I would like to put some of my client's money.

The other type of mutual fund may appeal to some of our readers. These funds are called closed end funds. That means only that when the fund was started, it sold a limited number of shares and no more. These funds do not redeem your shares. They do not sell at asset value. The price is determined by whatever the public is willing to pay for them. The shares that you purchase are traded exactly like any other stock purchased on a stock exchange or over the counter.

You do not pay a load fee to purchase these funds. The shares are sold at the market price, plus the broker's commissions. They are not sold at net asset value like open end mutual funds. That is a substantial difference between the two types of funds.

Another large difference is that the price of the fund does not always coincide with the investment results. For example, the funds started recently by three of the best known investment advisors, Charles Allmon (Growth Stock Outlier), Martin Zweig (Zweig fund), and Mario Gabelli (Gabelli Equity Trust) were selling recently at below their initial offering price. The May 25th Barron's lists the discounts from net asset value as GSO - 5.0%, Zweig - 14.1%, and Gabelli Equity at - 15.4%. Substantial discounts.

So why do I mention these things? The answer is that there are some investment opportunities for you and some dangers also. The dangers first. You will notice that some funds sell at substantial premiums to net assets value. The Korea fund is selling at a premium of +104%, more than double its net asset value. That's a terrible price to pay, real blue sky stuff and dangerous. The other premiums range from +1.8% to +75.2% (Taiwan Fund). Another danger is that the firm's management may decide to buy the stock to raise the price. The firm can not redeem stock unless the stock is selling at a 10% discount. So, it's a remote possibility only because it would reduce their asset base and, therefore, their fees. Am I too cynical?

The opportunities come with buying the discounted shares. These come from two sources. The first is that the public can change its mind and buy, increasing the price. The second comes if the managers of the fund switch the fund from a closed end to an open end fund. This is not hard to do. If they do this the fund will sell at net asset value, eliminating the discount and giving a profit to the stock holder. However, do not count on this happening in the near future because of the nature of closed end funds. A conversion will take place only if the egos of the stars get in the way. Only if they get tired of the insult the market place gives them.

St. Francis Hospital, The Heart Center, Roslyn, recently announced the election of Robert P. Quinn of Locust Valley as Chairman of the Hospital's Board of Directors.

A member of the St. Francis Hospital Board of Directors since April 1980, Mr. Quinn served as Vice Chairman of the Board and Chairman of its Executive and Quality Assurance Committees prior to this appointment.

His career in finance has included serving as a former General Partner of Salomon Brothers. His public and community service in addition to that of St. Francis includes membership on the Board of Directors of Glen Cove Boys and Girl's Club, the Right of Passage Committee of Covenant House and the Liberal Arts Council of University of Notre Dame. AT&T Plans To Lower Long Distance Rates

AT&T recently announced plans to lower interstate long distance prices approximately 4.8 percent, or more than $500 million, effective July 1. This would bring reductions in AT&T long distance prices to nearly 16 percent this year and nearly 34 percent since the Bell System was broken up in 1984.

AT&T advised Dennis Patrick, FCC chairman, in a letter of its plans to again cut long distance prices. The company formally asked the Federal Communications Commission, May 15, for approval to reduce long distance prices. A decision will be reached by July 1.

The proposed reduction, which would mean long distance price cuts of $7.35 billion since 1984, reflects changes in the subscriber line charge ordered by the FCC.

Beginning July 1, there will be a 60-cent increase in the current 12-cent fee that residence and small business customers pay to local telephone companies to cover part of the fixed costs of connecting their homes and businesses to the local telephone exchange. (Larger business customers already pay up to 60 monthly for the same connection.)

With the 60-cent charge, local telephone companies are lowering charges AT&T and other long distance companies pay for communications access to customers' homes and businesses.

AT&T will save approximately $500 million in lower access costs and pass along the savings—dollar for dollar—by reducing long distance prices.

"Today's action is more good news for millions of callers who use AT&T long distance services," said Randall L. Tobias, AT&T vice chairman. "We are delighted our customers will benefit from our savings."

In the FCC filing, AT&T recommended:

- AT&T Long Distance Service direct dialed prices be reduced 4.8 percent at all hours.
- Reach Out America's initial hour and evening option fees be reduced 4.8 percent.
- AT&T PRO America I, II and III family of services be decreased 4.8 percent and AT&T Card calls introduced to the plan.
- AT&T Readylin's usage prices be reduced 4.8 percent.

Home Equity Line of Credit

With real estate values skyrocketing and the new tax law phasing out many popular consumer loan deductions, the home equity line of credit has suddenly become today's hot product in banking.

It's easy to see why. The home equity line of credit enables you to use the increased value in your home to borrow money at low interest rates and flexible payments. This is particularly attractive in the Long Island area, where housing values are among the highest in the nation.

And unlike other consumer loans, interest payments on a home equity credit line, in some cases, are deductible under the new tax law.

But exactly who is taking out a home equity line of credit?

A recent sampling by Chase Manhattan Bank's Home Equity Center sheds new light on the market for home equity credit in the Metropolitan area.

The sampling of approved applications by Chase reveals:

- 68 percent are from households with annual incomes between $35,000-$74,999.
- 70 percent are in the 35-54 age bracket.
- 68 percent are employed in white-collar jobs.
- 66 percent own two or more cars.
- 94 percent own one-family homes.
- The average balance on an applicant's current mortgage is $29,700.
- The average appraised value of an applicant's primary residence is $213,700.

Jerry DeRojas, vice president and manager of Chase Long Island's Community Banking Group, says there are several misconceptions about home equity credit. "This is not a lump sum payment, but rather a long-term line of credit," he explains.

"Secondly, the market value of your home is just one factor in determining a home equity line of credit. Your income, monthly obligations and credit history, as much as the market value of your home, are key factors in deciding whether you get the line of credit and for how much you qualify," he says.

The first step in applying for a home equity line of credit is to determine your debt to income ratio. This is calculated by dividing monthly expenses by monthly income. Monthly expenses include mortgage principal and interest, taxes, car loan payments, credit card installment payments -- as well as the payments on the home equity line of credit based on the total size of the credit line requested.

The second step is to determine the maximum amount you can borrow. In most cases, it will not exceed 75 percent of the current value of your home less the balance of your current mortgage.

For example, if your home is worth $180,000 and your mortgage balance is $65,000, your credit limit would be $70,000 ($$180,000 \times 0.75 - $65,000 = $70,000$).

DeRojas notes that if you have a sound credit history, and a complete application, you can be given a conditional approval within 72 hours. An appraisal of your home by an independent appraiser, and a title search by an outside agent to confirm the legal status of your property, will follow shortly thereafter.

Hicksville Republican Club

By Joseph Jablonsky
Executive Leader

Bill Lee
President

The Hicksville Republican Club will hold its June monthly meeting at 8:30 p.m. at the VFW Hall, 350 Broadway, Hicksville on Friday, June 12. Mr. Thomas Gulotta, county executive of Nassau County, will be the guest speaker.

Thomas S. Gulotta has been successful in developing programs of fiscal prudence and social responsibility. A compassion for people and a dedication to principle are trademarks of his public service career. First as a state assemblyman and later as presiding supervisor, he has championed ideals and legislation to make government more productive and less expensive for the taxpayers it serves.

An insightful and articulate spokesman for his beliefs, Gulotta never hesitates to take the fight for town and county benefits to either Albany or Washington D.C. His proposals have convinced many a state and federal legislator of the need for increased funding or more responsible mandates.

Though successful in meeting the challenge of today's major issues, Gulotta derives special satisfaction for working with residents and special interest groups. "A municipality is comprised of people and their participation in the governmental process is essential to the growth and vitality of a region," explains Gulotta.

In his tenure as presiding supervisor, Gulotta initiated measures and legislation benefiting the elderly, the handicapped, minorities and students. His 24 Hour Hotline, Citizen Service Mobile Office and Citizen Advisory Committees are evidence of Gulotta's concerted effort to respond to the needs of all segments of the population.

Though time consuming, his position does not prevent Gulotta from enjoying his favorite roles: husband, father and active community leader.

Gulotta, who resides in North Merrick with his wife, Betsy, and three children, Thomas, Christopher and Elizabeth, was born and raised in Lynbrook. He attended Malverne High School where he was president of the Student Association and secretary-treasurer of the National Senior Honor Society. Later, he graduated Phi-Beta Kappa at Trinity College and was a member of the Dean's list at Columbia Law School where he received his Juris Doctor Degree in 1969.

Gulotta's first attempt at elective office was in 1975, when he won a legislative seat on the proposed Nassau County Legislature. He was elected to the State Assembly in 1976 carrying a district which had previously been won by a margin of only 200 votes. He was re-elected twice and in the 1980 election, carried his district by 27,000 votes—a margin that was one of the highest in assembly campaigns statewide. He has been elected three times as presiding supervisor of the Town of Hempstead with the largest pluralities ever recorded in the town's history, including the most recent election in 1985 when he recorded 75% of the votes cast.

Galileo Lodge News

By Joe Lorenzo

President Joe Giordano's Message: 'I have learned silence from the talkative, tolerance from the tolerant, and kindness from the unkind.' Old Saying.

There is an activity on the Galileo Lodge's entertainment horizon when and where everything will be Italian, and obviously it will be called Italian night. Italian night will be held on Friday, October 9, at the Galileo Lodge. When I say everything Italian, I refer to the mood, atmosphere, entertainment, food, music and everything else that will be a part of the proceedings for that night. This announcement is causing quite a bit of excitement, and why not, after all, everyone should be reminded of his or her culture, traditions, habits, norms and standards. It is all part of a way of life, a way of life that is steeped in glory and achievement. Yes, it's true that we are Americans and we are proud of that, but we can't deny the origin of our blood which cries out for recognition and exposure. Our ancestors and forefathers don't want to be forgotten, and rightly so, as they are our inspiration and guidance during the course of our lives. Since this activity is in the planning stages, it might be considered a bit premature nevertheless it is an event that will cause much excitement and enjoyment. There will be more details on Italian night in later columns.

On June 5, 6, 7 and 8, members of the Galileo Lodge will head for the Concord, Kiamehsa Lake, N.Y. to attend the Grand Convention of the Order of the Sons of Italy in America. These members, called delegates for obvious reasons, will represent the Galileo Lodge just as other delegates from other filial lodges will represent them. At this convention, our delegates will acquaint themselves with the problems, obstacles and organizational duties of the Order of the Sons of Italy in America. They will voice opinions, offer suggestions and offer their assistance in order that the Order grows, advances and prospers. There will be outdoor sports, especially golf, in order to mix a little pleasure with business, a line of reasoning that certainly has its merits. Taking everything into consideration, the Grand Convention surely sounds like a nice activity, and I am positively certain that all the delegates and the dignitaries will have a wonderful time.

Another reminder: The Ladies Auxiliary are presenting a Testimonial Dinner in honor of ex-president Mary Monteforte, an officer of this auxiliary who worked so hard during its days of infancy. Tickets sell at $22.50 per person, and in the offering will be a cocktail hour, a delicious dinner with all the trimmings, beer, soda, coffee and cake, set-ups, unlimited liquor and music for your listening and dancing pleasure. Sue Laurenti (WE 1-0096) will 'chair' this activity, ably assisted by her co-chairlady Mary Sarrera (433-6289) and her assistants, Rose Panczeka, Rachel Staino, Ann Palermo and Carmen Russo. So please note that tickets will be sold at the Galileo Lodge every Wednesday night from 6 to 9 p.m. This is a splendid honor for ex-president Mary Monteforte, and all members, male and female, are urged to attend, because this is one way to pay her the tribute she deserves.

Help is always needed for our bingo sessions, so all members are urged to pitch in and give up some of your time and effort. It's your lodge.

TO YOUR HEALTH

By RICHARD H. BLAU, M.D.

Systemic Lupus Erythematosus - A Disease of Inflammation

Systemic lupus erythematosus (lupus) can affect any organ in the body. No one knows the cause of lupus, but women are eight to ten times more affected than men. For some reason, the body's immune system turns against itself and attacks healthy tissue. The result of this attack is inflammation and injury to the involved organ.

Lupus can begin as fever, weakness, weight loss and fatigue. If the inflammation involves the skin, a butterfly rash may occur on the face. If the joints become involved, arthritis can ensue. In the more severe forms of the disease, the lungs, the heart, the kidneys, the blood, the muscles, and even the brain may be attacked.

The diagnosis of lupus can be very difficult. Your physician will need to obtain a careful history of your illness, and perform a complete physical examination. Specialized blood tests are also often required.

Rheumatologists (specialists in lupus) usually treat the mild form of the disease with simple medications. If the inflammation is severe and many organs are involved, your rheumatologist may begin more powerful medications. Additionally, a program of rest, exercise, balanced diet, avoidance of sunlight and emotional support groups may be recommended.

Arthritis strikes one out of seven people. Learn the facts. Call for your complimentary copy of "The Joint Approach - An Arthritis Overview."

Dr. Richard H. Blau is a board-certified Rheumatologist practicing in Manhasset, 516-482-6822 and Westbury, 516-997-6823.

Successful selling is a piece of cake!

True
False

Of course the answer is FALSE! Successful selling in the highly competitive business world today is a tough, demanding profession that requires hard work, dedication and skill.

That's why so many men and women in selling take the Dale Carnegie Sales Course. It gives them a better understanding of the psychology of modern, motivational selling. It brings them up-to-date with the newest and most effective methods and techniques of their profession.

It is a highly organized sales training process from beginning to end, from prospecting to getting the order. It shows salespeople how to get the information they need before making the first call. They learn how to better organize their time so they can come face-to-face with more qualified prospects during a selling day. They develop more information, more convincing sales presentations based on the true wants and needs of the prospect.

The Dale Carnegie Sales Course® doesn't change anyone's basic personality. It is designed to help salespeople maintain their own personality and approach. It expands and develops, it refines, more effective degrees by incorporating the proven ideas and techniques of the course.

Most of the graduates of this sales training program report that tangible results come quickly in the form of measurable increases in sales, even before the course is finished. To get your free copy of our quick-reading booklet which outlines the Dale Carnegie Training® programs, call toll-free 800-351-8800, in Texas, call 908-282-3424, or write to the address below.

Peg is the product of a mixed marriage - English aristocracy and American "low-born" Irish. She travels to England to be taught by her aunt how to become a proper English lady. During the course of her education, Peg happily and delightfully turns the tables and teaches her snooty family a few things about real manners. Of course, in the end she arranges a truly happy ending for all.

Modern Dance Company to Debut on Long Island

Known throughout the United States, the critically acclaimed Modern Dance Company of Creach and Koester will debut on Long Island on June 7 at the Maguire Theatre at S.U.N.Y. Old Westbury. The evening of dance, sponsored by Saraband, Ltd., the not-for-profit corporation that founded the Scholarship Program for Achievement in Dance, Long Island's first pre-professional dance competition, features these two stars of Modern Dance in "Street Talk" and "Cut".

"Street Talk" is a movement from the larger work "Artificial Horizon" commissioned by Dance Theatre Workshop under a Jerome Foundation grant awarded to the choreographer Jane Comfort. Originally set on eight men, "Cut" by Terry Creach and Stephen Koester, was commissioned in August of 1986. They have revised it for women, especially for Saraband's evening Dance Festival. The work of the two men is energetic, athletic and features unusual and daring lifts and partnering which is the distinctive facet of their company.

On the same bill is Lisa Attles of the Dance Theatre of Harlem with the Long Island premiere of "Mother's Prayer", an elegant solo based on a religious theme.

Jean Anderson of the Metropolitan Opera Ballet has choreographed a dramatic solo for Rockville Centre-bred ballerina Rayanne Mershon. Featuring Ms. Mershon's exquisite baton, this classical piece, choreographed to world premiere for Saraband, has a Mediterranean flavor which is where Rayanne had soiled with the New York Theatre Ballet.

The Ballet "Les Sylphides", choreographed by Michel Fokine, was first presented by Diaghilev's Ballet Russe in 1909. One the evening of the 7th, Long Islanders will receive the rare treat of seeing the celebrated pas de deux, Dance I by former American Ballet Theatre Ballerina Nina Brzorad and Ralph DiRienzo, this piece is being staged in its original form for Saraband by Ms. Brzorad's famous husband Ali Pourfarrokhi who, with her, co-directs the Dance Theatre of Long Island.

During the evening, Saraband will also feature performances by Peter Morrison and Pamela Gurman. Last year, Peter was awarded the Saraband Grand Prize Ballet Scholarship and Pamela, the Grand Prize Modern Dance Scholarship. These two young people have had an exciting year of dance behind them and are growing into accomplished performers. Peter, from Stony Brook, will dance Colin's solo from "La Fille Mal Gardée" and Pamela, from Franklin Square, will present a Modern Dance of her own choreography. Peter has received offers from both American Ballet Theatre and New York City Ballet while Pamela plans on experimenting with dance and film.

The program begins at 7:00 on June 7 with the final round of competition dancing for the coveted Saraband Modern Dance and Ballet Grand Prizes of $1,500 each. Also awarded that evening will be the two 1900 Awards of Merit. The cash awards and prizes are made possible, in part, by grants from Tambrands, Inc. and stockbrokers Walsh, Greenwood & Co. A Town of Oyster Bay Arts Council grant has made possible, in part, the appearance of the guest artists whose performances will follow the conclusion of the competition.

Tickets for this unique and breathtaking evening are $15 and include a reception and awards presentations where spectators will mingle with the competitors, winners and stars of the dance world. For tickets, send $15 to Saraband, Ltd., P.O. Box 48, Port Washington, N.Y. 11050 or call 883-2095.

12 alternatives to lashing out at your kid.

You don't have to let a hand to hand fight with words hit as hard as a fist. The next time everyday pressures build up to such a pitch that you feel like lashing out, stop! And try any of these simple alternatives.

1. Put your hands over your mouth. Count to 10. Or better yet, 20.
2. Stop in your tracks. Press your lips together and breathe deeply.
3. Phone a friend.
4. Phone the weather.
5. Say the alphabet out loud.
6. If someone can watch the children, go outside and take a leisurely walk.
7. Take a hot bath or splash cold water on your face.
8. Pick up a pencil and write down your thoughts.
9. Close your eyes and imagine you're hearing what your child hears.
10. Turn on the radio or TV.
11. Hug a pillow.
12. Write for prevention information: National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse, Box 2866, Chicago, IL 60690.

Opening lead — ace of clubs.

One strongly tends to exclude unlikely distributions from the reckoning, but this can be a serious mistake, as declarer learned to his sorrow in this hand.

South ruffed the opening club lead, drew three rounds of trumps, played a heart to the jack, ruffed a club, and cashed the A-K-Q of hearts, discarding two diamonds from dummy.

This method of play surely would have succeeded had the hearts been divided normally — that is, 4-3. In that case, declarer would have ruffed a diamond in dummy and easily scored the rest of the tricks.

But with the hearts divided as they were, South found himself going down one. He had two losers in his hand — a heart and a diamond — and could not ruff them both with the one trump that remained in dummy.

Yet the contract was ice-cold. There was a much safer line of play, and South failed to spot it. Instead of attempting to ruff his potential losers in dummy, he should have reversed that process by ruffing dummy's losers in his own hand.

At trick two, South leads a trump to the nine, and at trick three ruffs a second round of clubs. He then plays a trump to the jack, ruffs another club at trick five, plays a heart to the jack, and ruffs still another club with this last trump.

After trumping a low heart in dummy, South draws West's last trump with the queen, on which he discards a diamond, and this scores the last four tricks with the ace of diamonds and A-K-Q of hearts.

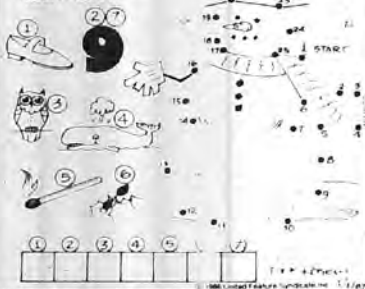

South's thirteen tricks consist of four club ruffs in his own hand, four trump tricks in dummy, the A-K-Q-J of hearts and the ace of diamonds. The dummy reversal works like a charm.

AT HOFSTRA: Wrapup

Men's Lacrosse - Although finishing with a 7-9 overall record, the Hofstra youth movement showed considerable improvement as the Dutchmen played primarily with freshmen and sophomores in the lineup.

Freshman Brian Foresta led the Dutchmen in scoring this year, tallying 22 goals and 12 assists, followed by sophomores Jon Cooper, who registered 24 goals and 9 assists, and Ken Curry who threw in 18 goals and 8 assists. Senior Mike Minisini finished his career by scoring 17 goals and 7 assists.

The Dutchmen also received excellent play in goal behind freshman Dave Giannone, who missed Hofstra's last three games with a separated shoulder, and sophomore Marc Riccio. Defensively, senior Ron Pimental teamed with freshmen Bob Rao, Matt Cady and Doug Edmonds to help reduce the number of goals scored against the Dutchmen by more than twenty from last year.

Women's Lacrosse - Despite finishing with a 1-12 overall record, Coach Lynn Kotler's team received some outstanding performances from junior Dee Ann McGill, sophomore Elaine Anton and freshman Kim Giampietro.

McGill finished the season with a team high 21 goals and 1 assist while Anton tallied 17 goals and Giampietro 11 goals.

Defensively, freshman Brenda Marsteller had an outstanding season, and goalkeeper Sue Todd, a senior, recorded 227 saves.

Baseball - Hofstra's baseball team finished with its second consecutive winning season (14-13) while narrowly missing the East Coast Conference Playoffs.

Coach Bob Borowicz' team finished 7-11 in the ECC, failing to miss the playoffs in the final conference games against eventual champion Rider College.

The Flying Dutchmen were led by East Coast Conference allstar John Bilello, a senior pitcher who led the ECC in strikeouts per game (9.22 per) He compiled a 6-3 overall record with a 2.91 ERA.

Hofstra also featured six 400 hitters: Greg Calla (.305), Jim Wahlig (.355), Chris Soutar (.355), Jim Donaghy (.322), Tim O'Malley (.310) and Keith Sachs (.302).

Softball - Coach Marc Fazio brought the Dutchwomen softball team to its best record in the last nine years with a 14-17 overall mark.

Senior Milt Katz led the Dutchwomen in hitting with a .338 batting average while driving in 15 runs. Freshman Edith Gallagher finished with a .330 batting average while Caren Canino hit .423 and drove in a team leading 22 runs.

Hofstra's top thrower was sophomore Sherry Sterbinsky, who finished with an 8-8 record while pitching an incredible 127 2/3 innings, 58 percent of all Hofstra's innings. Sophomores Linda D'Avino and Teri Pavia also pitched well for the Dutchwomen.

Golf - The Flying Dutchmen, under Coach Christopher Humm, completed another banner year, finishing with a 9-3 record and their best ever finish (fourth) in the East Coast Conference Championship.

Hofstra was paced by seniors Steve Marman, Victor Ghini and John McGannon, along with junior John Nishimura. Ghini and Marman both averaged under 80 per match and qualified for the prestigious ECAC Championship that was held at Colgate University. McGannon and Nishimura each recorded numerous scores in the 70's with McGannon's 75 at Cedar Brook being Hofstra's lowest score of the spring season.

Men's Tennis - In what was supposed to be a rebuilding year for the Dutch tennis team, it turned out to be a pleasant .500 (8-8) season for Coach Paul Lynner's squad.

Senior captain Glen Levin, Hofstra's number one singles player, did not finish with a great won/lost record, but, according to Lynner, "was one of my best captains ever." Lynner has reason to be optimistic about the future based on the play of freshman Jeff Greenwald, who was a finalist at sixth singles in the Metropolitan Conference Tennis Championship, and freshman Al Pickett, who teamed with Greenwald for an upset of the number two seeded team in the doubles competition.

Women's Tennis - The Dutchwomen tennis team completed a disappointing season with an overall record of 2-10, defeating Manhattan College and Brooklyn College.

Julie Silverstein, a senior captain, played well for Coach Fran Kalafar's team at both first and second singles. Sophomore Daria Miller turned out to be a pleasant surprise as she went from sixth singles to first singles in the course of the season.

AT C.W. POST: Season's End

In its first full season of Division I competition, C.W. Post's baseball team finished the season with a 28-13-1 record and captured the inaugural Diamond Conference championship with a 10-1 mark.

With an automatic invitation to the ECAC Championships being awarded to the winner of the conference, C.W. Post captured its first two games of the tournament, defeating ECAC New England Champion, New Hampshire, 2-1, and ECAC Upstate New York Champion, Utica, 5-3. However, Fordham, the MAAC Champion and eventual ECAC tournament winner, avenged an 18-5 regular season loss to the Pioneers by defeating C.W. Post, 3-4. New York Tech, runner-up to C.W. Post in the Diamond Conference, rallied from a 4-1 deficit to eliminate the Pioneers from the Championships, 10-5.

C.W. Post and New York Tech split the five-game series this year with each team winning two games with one tie. The twin setbacks in tournament play left Pioneer Head Coach Dick Vining one victory shy of becoming the first collegiate coach in New York State to reach the 500 victory plateau. Nevertheless, the Pioneers, who were picked by many to finish in the middle of the race in the league standings, exceeded all expectations. Losing only four seniors to graduation, the future of the team does appear to be bright.

The effects of playing the most difficult softball schedule in school history were illustrated by a record of 18-26, the poorest in Lady Pioneer history. Facing numerous Division I squads and all the elite teams in the Region, the Lady Pioneers struggled throughout the season. However, with all nine starters returning, Head Coach Glen Payne remains very optimistic: "By facing such a demanding schedule, we were able to see what it takes to be a quality Division II softball team."

Nassau Sports Review

By JACK WHITE

For the second consecutive year the Nassau County Baseball Championship belongs to the Big Red of Glen Cove High. A decisive 11-2 victory in the final game of the best-of-three series at Mitchel Park enabled Glen Cove (24-6) to end Levittown Division's quest for the title that school won in 1984 and 1985. It was truly a match-up of champions and it featured some great performances.

Desi Wilson of Glen Cove is a six-seven athlete who is a Division One prospect in both basketball and baseball. In the finale he had four hits including a two-run home run (his 11th) and a triple. He also hurled five innings, held Division to two hits, and got credit for the win.

"A kid like Desi comes along once in a lifetime," said coach Jon Dolecki. "He rises to the occasion."

Another player who came through for the Covers was Tom Capobianco who was named M.V.P. of the tournament. He blanked the Blue Dragons, 2-0, in the opener of the series, then came in to relieve Wilson in the sixth inning of game three. Capobianco allowed just one baserunner to seal the win. In the one game he didn't pitch, Division won, 12-3.

Glen Cove now moves on to the State Tournament as Nassau's Class B representative and as defending state champs. Division will be the Section 8 'A' team, while the Class C team will be Valley Stream North which beat Wheatley, 12-3, in the deciding game of a best-of-three series.

United Way Youths Helped By NY Jets Coach

Larry Pasquale, a Garden City resident and special teams' coach of the New York Jets, showed the fine art of field-goal kicking to 75 boys and girls during the special youth program held recently at the team's Hofstra University training center. United Way of Long Island coordinates arrangements for youths from various parts of the biconomy area to attend the Jets community program. This year all 10 coaches and 15 of the players led the different drills that professionals practice.

The clinic along with time to get autographs and photographs was the idea of head coach Joe Walton. He began this community program upon being appointed to the top coaching position in 1983 after serving as the team's offensive coordinator. "When I became head coach, I wanted to be of service," Walton said, "I wanted to help in some way, especially with the young people. United Way gave me that opportunity," he stated.

More than 500 Long Island youngsters have attended Jets annual programs over this five-year period. This year they came from seven agencies that participate in United Way of Long Island. The agencies are Boy Scouts, the Cleary School for the Deaf of Catholic Charities, Girl Scouts, Nassau Children's House, Salvation Army, Wyandanch Youth Services, and Yours, Ours, Mine Community Center in Levittown.

Shamrocks Win First Place in Tournament

By A. BLICKER

The Hicksville Shamrocks, 1974 boys traveling soccer team, bought home first place trophies from the Commack Memorial Weekend Tournament, capturing the Major Division Title, via a record of 4 wins, 1 tie and 1 loss.

The Shamrocks opened the tournament Saturday afternoon with an inauspicious 0-2 loss to the Kings Park Cougars. Their second game was a 2-2 tie against the New Rochelle Raiders. On Sunday, Hicksville was on fire. They began the morning with a 4-1 victory over the Rockville Centre Rebels. They then thoroughly trounced the Larchmont Sounders 6-0. At 8 a.m. on Monday, they opened the semi-finals with a 2-1 victory over the North Babylon Hawkeyes. In the tournament finale against Ridgefield (Connecticut) Express, they played their best game, winning by a much wider margin than the 2-0 score would indicate.

Goalie Ed Jacobsen had a strong, all around tournament, with clutch goal stopping and great punting. Right fullback Chuck Oliver was a rock of granite, blunting numerous charges and contributing countless clearing passes to his halfbacks. Left fullback Christian Friedrich was sensational, for he never gave up and constantly broke up the opponent's plays. Greg Szumowski filled in capably at both fullback positions whenever called upon to supply assistance. Sweeper Brian Harkins was his usual dynamo in action, always hustling and being in the right spot which led to his big first goal in the finale. Stopper Chris Doyle had a great tournament, featuring numerous clearing shots which were always on target. He also took the majority of the Shamrock goal kicks and a good amount of their corner shots as well.

Center half Matthew Pordum was equally effective in the offensive and defensive zones; he does the little things that go unnoticed in the box score, but that lead to victory. Right half David Lovato was all over the field, constantly digging out the ball, breaking up the opponent's plays and setting up Hicksville's charges. Left half Domenick Perillo played defense and offense with equally impressive results. Striker Jason Kingsley could not be stopped with numerous assists as well as the majority of the team's corner kicks. The wing play of Eric Bliker, Karl Rice and Junior Tomlinson was one of ball control and aggression; three boys who do not know how to stop. Chris Koetter was the Shamrocks man-of-all positions, filling in ably at striker, both wings, halfback, fullback and sweeper, making his presence felt from all areas.

Congratulations to the Shamrocks on this outstanding victory and thanks to Coach Herb Pordum and Assistant Coach Glenn Kingsley, Jr. for making this a weekend to remember.

Hicksville Pal Profile

By CHARLETTE ANSTEV

It seems that almost every car you see in Hicksville and surrounding areas has the sign hanging in it "Mom's Taxi" or "Dad's Taxi". In PAL we are extremely fortunate that these busy moms and dads can find the time to help our programs. The success of the Hicksville PAL can be attributed to these generous individuals. With this issue of The Hicksville Illustrated News we will again honor one of these outstanding volunteers.

George Maggio

George just retired as detective for the New York City Police Department. He and his wife just bought a video store (Show Biz Video) in Hicksville and that's where they spend most of their time now.

Being involved in sports goes way back for George. His six children were always involved in sports. For years George and Carol's five sons played baseball for Hicksville American Little League. There George started as a coach, then he became director, vice president and eventually president of the League for four years.

His wife Carol, while raising six children, was president of the women's auxiliary, team mother and umpire in chief for H.A.L.L.

Now the boys are older and organized sports seem to be behind them. Their oldest son Joseph is 24 and a computer programmer at Grumman. Their second son Gene is 23 and graduating from St. John's University in May. George Jr. is 20 and started his own carpentry business. John is 10 and also works as a carpenter. Their youngest son James is 16 and is in Hicksville Senior High School. He's trying out for the school baseball team.

After all the time they gave to the boys, George wanted to get involved with sports for Loriann. Loriann is 13 and in the seventh grade at Hicksville Junior High School. She loves basketball and softball. Last year George and his son James coached Loriann's team. George enjoys being involved with PAL and working with the kids.

Hicksville's Girls' Varsity Track Team

SOPHOMORE STAR Jennifer Livingston won first place in the 800-meter race at the Port Washington Invitational. Jennifer also won the featured 1500-meter race in the time of 4:51.6.

HICKVILLE TRACK STARS Denise Reja and Jean Harkins are still smiling after finishing the 13.1 mile Newsday 1/2 marathon.

Hicksville Strikers At Massapequa Tournament

By FRED FREY

The Hicksville Strikers played five games at Berner High School in the Massapequa Soccer Club Memorial Day tournament. Playing in the "boys under nineteen" age group, the Hicksville Strikers accumulated five points over the three days to finish in third place.

In the first game on Saturday, May 23, against Rhode Island South Country Sting, the Hicksville Strikers played a superb defensive game allowing no goals. Steven Gourlay put a fine shot into the upper left hand corner of the Rhode Island goal on a great feed from Greg Martin to put Hicksville ahead. Final score Hicksville 1, Rhode Island 0.

The second game on Saturday, Hicksville met the tough Yonker's Rowdies and played them even up until the final minute of the game when the Strikers committed a foul within the penalty area. The Rowdies striker converted the penalty shot to make the final score Yonkers 1, Hicksville 0.

On Sunday morning, May 24, the Hicksville Strikers met the East Islip Soccer Club Reds in a tremendous defensive struggle. Hicksville had many opportunities to score with the East Islip goalkeeper making a total of 11 saves to repel the Striker attackers. Hicksville defenders again showed their superiority by only allowing two shots on goal. The game wound up in a tie; Hicksville Strikers 0, East Islip Reds 0.

For the second game on Sunday, Hicksville met the powerful Alexandria, Virginia Warriors team. Again the Hicksville defenders proved dominant by putting up a tough defense against Virginia's fleet attackers. Tim Richards had his third shutout of the tournament with the final score again tied; Hicksville Strikers 0, Virginia Warriors 0.

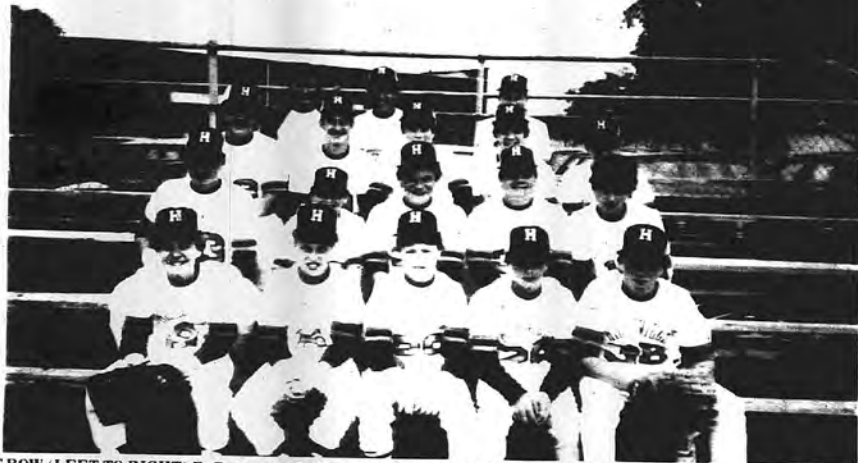

The Hicksville Strikers are ably coached by Mr. Pat McCue and Mr. Steven Gourlay. At goalkeeper is Tim Richards assisted by a fine defensive line of Robert Karlewicz, Vin Longo, Matt Conroy, Greg Fisch and Geoffrey Frey. The hustling midfielders were Mike Brigandi, Greg Martin, Glenn Rose, Patrick Seiden, Mark Valente and Neil McKenna. Attacking forwards were Tom Boccafolo, Steven Gourlay, Jeffrey Schroeder and Keith Donnelly.

The final game was played on Monday, May 25 at 8 a.m. against Massapequa National Blue. Massapequa opened the scoring with a fine shot by their striker into the lower left corner of the net at five minutes into the game. Hicksville countered at 21 minutes on an indirect free kick outside the penalty area taken by Steve Gourlay and drilled past the keeper by Niel McKenna. The second half proved scoreless making the final score Hicksville Strikers 1, Massapequa National Blue 1.
