TOM GUILFOYLE, poultryman at the Jones Institute in West John street, Hicksville, composed the following for the Centre Island News and the Hicksville Avia-Club:

WINTER DAYS IN HICKSVILLE
I am longing now for Lilac Time
And when the May Pinks bloom,
To see again our sky girls fly
Through the girls of a full spring moon;
When Spring sunshine beams upon me
O'er Hicksville those girls will spy,
Oh these lonesome skies oppress me now,
When the snow flakes start to fly.

Through the window pane where I abide
I see some here and there
Frolicking 'neath the winter clouds
With snowflakes in their hair;
Their auburn tresses spotted up
With snow flakes soft and white
But the roses of sweet summertime
In their cheeks, illumine each winter flight.

O'er the snow clad plains of Hicksville
Where the north winds always blow,
Where the violets bloom in merry spring,
And the golden sage grass grows
I see some sky girls up above, 'neath
The clouds so bleak and grey,
But their graceful banks and tailpins
Bring back to me the summer day.

Mrs. William Thorman accompanied Mr. Kellaway at the organ. She also rendered several solos. A large and appreciative audience enjoyed the program.

Juniors Take Active Part
An increasingly important part in the activities of the American Legion Auxiliary will be taken by the Auxiliary's junior members this year, according to Mrs. Henry Starks, junior chairman of the Charles Wagner Unit No. 421. The number of junior members is increasing steadily and their activities are being developed to give them an interesting and useful share in Auxiliary work, she said.

Junior Auxiliary members are the daughters of American Legionnaires under eighteen years of age. More than 40,000 of them were enrolled in the Auxiliary last year and a much larger enrollment is expected for 1938. Training in patriotism and good citizenship is an important part of the junior program.

The Junior group of the Charles Wagner Unit is making rapid progress, and a program of highly interesting activities is underway for 1938. At their meeting to be held in the Legion clubhouse on Saturday afternoon, February 12, they will have a "Coupon Party" and the member bringing in the most coupons will be given a prize by Mrs. William Thorman who is leader for the month. This is to encourage them in collecting coupons, so that they may do their share in helping some veteran's child to go to Health Camp, for the money derived from the exchange of coupons is used for the American Legion Auxiliary Health Camp. All eligible girls in Hicksville are being invited to come into its membership at this time.

Thomas W. Howell of Denver, Colorado, has been visiting with the Loeffler and Hafner families in Hicksville.

The annual card party of the Hicksville Branch of the Women's Auxiliary of the Nassau hospital will be held at the Masonic Temple on Thursday, March 31.

A miscellaneous shower was given Miss Rose Rinne by Martha Rebekah Lodge at the home of Mrs. L. Brand of Park avenue, Hicksville, last evening. Miss Rinne will be married in the near future.

Regular monthly meeting of the Charles Wagner Unit No. 421 will be held in the Legion clubhouse tonight, when Mrs. William Curwitt, Past Department President of the American Legion Auxiliary, and State Legislative Chairman will address the membership. The members of the Charles Wagner Unit No. 421 have been invited to attend.

Members of the Charles Wagner Unit No. 421 are planning to attend a dinner to be given at the Salisbury country club by the Nassau County Committee, American Legion Auxiliary, next Thursday evening, when the Department President, Mrs. Laura Stegman will make her official visit to Nassau.

The Ladies Sewing Circle of the Community church will meet on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Rennie Staryk-Marsuck.

Oiga Staryk, daughter of Mrs. M. Staryk of Burns avenue, Hicksville, became the bride of Michael Marsuck also of Hicksville at Baltimore, Maryland, on January 28. They are now on a honeymoon trip to Miami, Florida and are expected to return to Hicksville in about two weeks.

The bride was educated in Hicksville schools and Brown's Business school. She was employed at Frederic Looser and company at Garden City. Mr. Marsuck is a chef and counterman at the Hicksville Diner on Broadway.

CORDUROYS
The worst investment in the world is a cheap corduroy because it splits apart in no time at all. It pays to pay a little more for the best — and the best is labeled "Sweet-Orr." Please don't take our word for it. Come in and see for yourself... examine the cloth... test the seams.
KHAKIS
For real Khakis you can't beat 'em. Put together to stay together. You can laugh at tough weather with these "Sweet-Orr" khakis. They're built for men whose clothes have to "take it." Not for drug store cowboys.
NAIL-PULLERS
Worn by men who are so tough they "chew nails and spit battleships". Nail-puller cloth is a remarkable development in work clothing fabrics. Long, staple threads, DOUBLED, tightly twisted and woven into cloth. Double threads mean double wear. Barb-proof—so tight is the weave, nail-pullers are less likely to catch on nails, barbs, underbrush or other sharp objects.

Local Red Cross Unit Appeals for Chinese Relief Funds

AN APPEAL FOR FUNDS to be used for the relief of millions of suffering men, women and children in China was made today by Mrs. Henry P. Davison, Chairman of the Nassau County Red Cross Chapter at Mineola, who announced that at the suggestion of President Roosevelt, Chapters throughout the country were joining in the appeal.

In addition to the urgent need for food, shelter, and warm clothing, one of the great needs in China at the present time is for medical assistance. Mrs. Davison said "Great danger exists that epidemics may break out."

Admiral Cary T. Grayson, national Red Cross chairman, said "America's Red Cross had informed him that 650,000 sick and homeless persons were crowding the International Settlement in Greater Shanghai at the present time, with many times that number scattered throughout coastal and interior cities, towns, and villages that have been devastated."

The national chairman also pointed out that lack of adequate housing facilities for the homeless was aggravating the health problem, and that existing public shelters had long been over-crowded, resulting in thousands of homeless being forced to huddle under awnings, in the open, or in insufficient protection from snows and cold rains sweeping over the country.

Admiral Grayson said "The Japanese had informed him that 650,000 sick and homeless persons were crowding the International Settlement in Greater Shanghai at the present time, with many times that number scattered throughout coastal and interior cities, towns, and villages that have been devastated."

LOCAL RED CROSS CHAPTER APPEALS FOR CHINESE RELIEF FUNDS

This is the eleventh in a series of articles of interest to residents in all sections of the country. It concerns the plea of Mrs. Davison for Nassau residents to aid Chinese sufferers.

My dear Admiral Grayson:

There is, I am confident, a widespread desire on the part of our citizens in every section of the country to contribute to a fund to aid in meeting the extreme distress of millions of civilian people in China. I feel that our people are deeply sympathetic with those in need in this situation and will wish by their voluntary contributions to take some larger part in aiding this humanitarian task in which the peoples of many countries are participating.

In order to give effect to this desire to aid the people of China it is necessary that some organization be designated to supervise the collection and distribution of the funds and for such a task we naturally turn to the Red Cross.

I should like to request, therefore, that the Red Cross take such steps as it may deem appropriate to afford the American people an opportunity to respond by their contributions to the need of our suffering fellow-beings and I trust that their response will result in a good-will offering of as much as perhaps one million dollars. In response to such an appeal I urge that all our citizens give promptly and generously.

Very sincerely yours,

(signed) FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

Reader's Sp

PHOTOGRAPHERS by the thousands in our wintry streets these days are all sorts of cameras, poking their lenses in all kinds of unexpected places. A good many are absorbed students of their art. I do not think there have been books written for the purpose of the last-mentioned amateur has been practically caught on the horns of a dilemma. It is most part those who have published for either lacked the literary skill to say completely what they meant, they often know little more than he did about photography.

A series of eight paper-covered booklets issued by the American Photographic Book Company (428 Newbury Street, Boston) deal with all that. Someone in Germany — the name has long been way out in front in photography has brought together a group of men who have subject down to the ground and who know how to talk about it. These pamphlets are translations of their work, and they number one. They are practical, complete, the minute, and deal directly with every problem (A Good Picture Every Time, Sharp Accurate Exposure, 130 Photo-Facts, Take Pictures at Night, How to Enlarge, Vial of Light Filters, Action Snapshots; 50¢ each). One of these pamphlets is good. They are crammed with suggestive, definite material.

It's a long jump from the little pamphlet to the excellent new English edition of "Light, Photography, Theory and Practice" (a translation from the French, published in America by the man Publishing Corp., New York, 1937). This one requires a technical treatment, however, is not much use in stopping short of the end for the practical amateur, the one who wants to know what, how, and why. The book is unsurpassed. Every topic is objectively handled, and each treatment concludes in understandable terms what is applied in field and darkroom. It is read enough up-to-date.

A number of special problems and methods of obtaining out-of-the-ordinary effects are in illuminating fashion in O. R. Croy's "The Art of Trick Photography" (American Photographic Publishing Company, $2.50), an English translation of a German publication, in its field of interest. A more elaborate American edition, "Frappe and O'Connor's Photographic Art," is a revised and enlarged eleventh edition of the American Photographic Publishing Company. It recently found it necessary to issue a new thing of a luxury book ($3.50), but the price is another manual that will delight the room tinker's heart is "Photographic Gadgets" (Globe Publishers, $2.50). "The Art of Photography" illustrates the way of the craft, to the instruction and pleasure of the man who is as handy with tools as with camera.

Superb examples of what today's photographers are creating — a revealing to most of the most stimulating to the camera — is presented in abundance in "Modern Photography" (The Studio Limited, London; Studio Publications, New York, $2.50 paper; $3.50 cloth). U. S. camera, 1937 (Williams Morris Company, $2.50). The former is international. Both include an enormous variety of subjects, treatment, and both give for every picture a score data for which the photographer looks. They show glimpses of the heights which many a lowly picture-maker has climbed.

LOW DOWN From Hickory Grow

MAYBE, I WILL get the Army and Navy on my neck, but I will scribble any of the Gov't. I reckon it cannot slap me the same, like as if I maybe raised a row or two of much cotton. And who I got in mind, mirals and Generals, getting' retired at 64.

But for any original, that has its feet on the ground, I will nominate these two-listed — and I will take my hat off to them. As they are not all washed up, by a long shot.

And these so-called old boys, they have experience and were brought up on discipline they have built a navy and an army that would respect it — and when a tough hand, they do it — not manna, but today.

So instead of retirin' these Brigadiers at 64, which is an insult, we better tack on 4 years — and honor them in places like the and for Governors, etc. And the Gov't. would clean and shine, and go places, like a ther-neck with a job ashore.

Yours, with the low down, JO 533

Cover Crops Curtail Wind Erosion. Prepared for the News, by F. B. Howe, Professor of Soil Technology, State College of Agriculture, at Cornell University.

MANY A VACATIONER, touring Cape Cod or Long Island, has become familiar with the sight of stretches of sand where capricious winds play whimsically at shifting about the sands—here removing, there piling them into dunes, but never leaving them still long enough to gather vegetation. Travelers may find these conditions duplicated over large areas upstate—in Herkimer, Lewis, Franklin, Jefferson, St. Lawrence and parts of Stratoga counties—where some 50,000 acres are in serious condition because of wind erosion. Here it has become a serious problem, blowing away good topsoil in some places, in other places burying good land beneath sterile sand.

The State College of Agriculture and the Division of State Planning, in their programs, are giving consideration to plans for the proper use and preservation of those lands subject to wind erosion.

Many New York farmers are controlling wind erosion by various methods. Cover crops, usually rye, are commonly used where sandy soils are cultivated. This protects the soil from erosion during winter months, and in the spring they are plowed under adding organic matter to the soil.

On some muck areas, windbreaks of fences or trees are used. Also advocated for muck lands are the maintenance of moisture by irrigation, the use of the heavy roller, and frequent addition to the soil of fresh, fibrous material, such as straw-manure or green-manure. These methods might be equally effective on cultivated sandy soil subject to blowing.

The principal means of control on non-agricultural sands is to establish and maintain a dense growth of grass or trees. In giving year-round protection the cone bearing trees are more effective than hardwood trees or grass. Red pine and Scotch pine are able to stand the adverse conditions of severely wind blown areas more successfully than hardwood trees or grass. An actively drifting beach and dune sands, some forest plantations have been successfully established without previous preparation, but on others erosion was first arrested by planting marram, or beach grass, and trees were set out a few years later.

Tree covers are highly effective in stopping wind erosion by breaking the force of the wind, building up a layer of litter to cover the soil, increasing the water-holding capacity of the surface layers, and by their roots, holding "loose sand" in place. Tree plantations have the added advantage in that they increase property values and ultimately will produce merchantable timber, which will yield a return. They will at the same time preserve the forest cover for erosion control.

Nelson Eddy, Eleanor Powell In Loew's Feature

Nelson Eddy and Eleanor Powell are co-starred for the first time in the super-lavish musical, "Ro-sa-ble," which opened yesterday at the Loew's Valencia Theatre, Jamaica, for a full week's showing. The musical also includes such favorites as Frank Morgan, Edgar, Ray Bolger, the new European sensation, Dora Mavor O'Neil, Billy Gilbert and Reginald Owen in a story that concerns the love and adventure of a West Point cadet and a princess of mythical Rome.

Directed by W. S. Van Dyke II, the new musical includes nine hit tunes by Cole Porter, while Madame Alberta Bassett presents ballet, tap, acrobatic and waltz ensembles.

Outstanding among the numbers is the "Romanza" set, which covers more than sixty acres and was filmed entirely at night with the aid of twenty-four cameras. This set was so large that lights had to be rented from every major studio in Hollywood for its operation. Twenty-five hundred people were included in that number alone.

How an amateur detective can outwit one of Europe's wildest intruders goes on in "Buildup Drummond's Revenge," which is the feature on this program. John Howard is again in the title role, and in his mad pursuit of the Scotland Yard John Campbell, Reginald Denny and E. C. Rive.

Happiness Prominent In Huntington Feature

Happiness is written all over "Happy Landings," which will be shown at the Huntington Theatre for four days, starting on Sunday and continuing through Wednesday. In it are featured "The Way We Live Now," "The Way We Live Now," and "Don Ameche." It is with Song, comedy, and Don Ameche. It is with Song, comedy, and Don Ameche. It is with Song, comedy, and Don Ameche.

No girl has ever had the stocking problem that confronts Sonja. During the two months she worked on this film, the stockings she wore sold in the skating numbers set the studio back $2100. The stockings really constitute a pair of tight, since they are of extra length, sewed together at the hips. They cost $35 per pair and several pairs are worn out in one day's skating. After Sonja has executed several of her amazing ice tricks, immense runs develop in the stockings and they have to be thrown out.

On the same program is Miriam Hopkins with Walter Abel and Henry Stephenson in "The Girl." This is a fast-paced romantic drama with hilarious comedy, episodes and human interest bound up with Village guardian stubbornly refuses them the luxury a millionaire can offer.

Winchell, Bernie, Simon At Hicksville Playhouse

A smash musical comedy goes to the head of the class with that hilariously funny comedy romance, "This Way Please," which opens today for a two day run. The picture, among other things, marks the screen debut of Mary Livingstone, Jack Benny's May to be exact, whose infectious laugh has endeared her to millions of radio fans these several years. "This Way Please" also features, Bibby Rogers and Betty Grable in the leading roles. Double-featured on the same program is "Night Club Scandal" with John Barrymore and Lynne Overman in the leading roles.

Opening Sunday for a three-day run is the long awaited "Love and Hisses" featuring those two fun feudists, Walter Winchell and Ben Bernie. They have come back for a return match of puns. This time the reason for barbed-wire is none other than the little sweet-hot from Paris, Simone Simon, who sings operatic arias and popular ballads for the musical surprise of the year. This new idea musical comedy hit show features a laugh-second brilliant corps of artists, is the picture which boasts this distinction: Despite the freezing temperatures which have attended the last few weeks during which the musical masterpiece has been showing, a movie-going public, estimated at close to three-quarters of a million people, will have seen "Snow White" before it is removed from the Music Hall screen.

Another of the Music Hall's contributions is in the public eye. Why is his name and he is the two and one-half year old fox terrier that appears with his master Ed Fox in the giant stage production conceived by Russell Markert. Invariably this four-legged thespian steals the show. He is the perfect picture of complete animal relaxation and to miss this dog act is to deprive yourself of one of the most unusual treats the entertainment world has offered in the past.

Ibsen's 'Doll's House' At Broadhurst

Jed Harris has re-rented the producer's sweepstakes with a presentation of "A Doll's House" which is bound to re-establish him as one of the foremost dramatic artists on Broadway. The Ibsen masterpiece established at the Broadhurst Theatre boasts of a cast of stellar performers, the equal of which has not been seen for many a season. Headed by Ruth Gordon "A Doll's House" is inhabited in turn by Paul Lukas, motion picture and lastly, but definitely not in the least, by Sam Jaffe, whom all will recall as the High Llama of the Lost Horizon.

Winchell discover her himself, and the columnist proceeds to shower rains of publicity upon her. Joan Crawford dances in a motion picture for the first time since "Dancing Lady." "The Bride Wore Red," in which Francoise Tene and Robert Young are co-featured will be shown Saturday and Thursday, February 9 and 10 at the Playhouse.

'Snow White' Held Over For Fourth Week

By TAPPER. For the first time in the history of the Radio City Music Hall a film is being held for a fourth week. "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," the smash hit from the pens of Walt Disney and his brilliant corps of artists, is the picture which boasts this distinction: Despite the freezing temperatures which have attended the last few weeks during which the musical masterpiece has been showing, a movie-going public, estimated at close to three-quarters of a million people, will have seen "Snow White" before it is removed from the Music Hall screen.

THE RIGHT FERTILIZER MAKES THEM MORE PROFITABLE.

Growing potatoes is your business! Your choice of the seed you plant, the cultivation you practice and the fertilizer you buy, should all be based solely on results.

It's results that make Swift's Red Steer Fertilizer so popular in this community. Year after year they make more profitable crops of potatoes!
They help make a high percentage of No. 1's and insure the crop for the early, more profitable market.

Thousands of growers have found that Swift's Improved Red Steer is the right fertilizer for their land. Why don't you give it a chance to prove that it's best for your land, too?

Alumni Climbs To Fifth Place

Defeats Westbury Five 41-28 at Hicksville; Victims of Sebas 44-29

The Hicksville Alumni quintet climbed up into a tie for fifth place with the Tally-Ho club of Westbury during the past week as they won one game in two starts.

Hicksville humbled the Westbury Alumni 41-28 last Wednesday night at Hicksville for its one win of the young campaign. The victory is significant as the Westbury Grads topped a heavily-favored St. Dominics "B" three nights later at Westbury.

In their other encounter, the Black and White were the victims of the fast-flying Glen Cove Sebas to the tune of 44-29 at Glen Cove on Sunday.

Grads Break Fast The local cagers got off to a ripping start against Westbury and enjoyed a 28-8 lead at half-time thanks to some fine shooting.

The Sebas, averaging well over the six foot mark, were forced to the limit in the first period, but went out in front in the second period and there they stayed for the remainder of the game.

Boscoks Seek 4th Straight

The Don Escosa A. C. of Hicksville will make their second invasion of Franklin Square on Monday night when they tangle with the powerful Business Men club of that village. Ten days ago Hickville returned from a Square-town with a 44-40 victory over the A. C.

Content that his team will continue its winning stride which has grown to three, Coach Tom Harner will start the veteran combination of Noeth, Petrone, Beckus, Schaeffer and Captain Kluegel. Noeth has been developing fast since he has been shifted to forward and he has averaged about 14 points per game.

At present, the Boscoks record stands at seven wins against six defeats and the Red and White courtiers are trying hard to remain above the .500 mark since in their two years of organized ball they have failed to attain 50 per cent.

Orange and Black Five Routs Sea Cliff 33-17

Remain Tied With Westbury For 1st Place

The Orange and Black cagers continue to match the Westbury high school quintet victoriously for victory in the Eastern sector as they humbled a stout-hearted Sea Cliff outfit 33-17 at Hicksville Friday night. Westbury trounced Oyster Bay to the tune of 30-18.

With the possibility of meeting Westbury this season very early in the tie for top honors, the Hickville cagers stepped out in the second period to gain a comfortable margin which they retained to the end.

Sea Cliff held the final term on even terms in the first period and took a 6-5 lead at the opening of the second quarter when Bourdette and Shorrel converted on free shots. Hickville's advantage in height proved to be the turning point in the contest as Fred Fluckinger and Bill Bourdette tapped in three rebound shots sending Hickville out to a 13-5 lead at halftime.

Fluckinger continued his effective shooting under the basket in the last half and took individual scoring honors with fourteen markers. Bourdette gained runner-up honors with nine points.

Hickville limited Sea Cliff to a single foul loss in the third session as Hickville added ten points in the final period saw Hickville again outscore the visitors despite the fact that the Hickville reserves saw action for a few minutes.

The Hickville Jayvees returned to the winning column in the preliminary game with a 25-16 victory over the Clinton Reserves. Red McCaffrey led the scorers with six points.

Shirley Mae Dance Studios Announce Opening

Miss Lulu M. Brower, Regional Director of the Shirley Mae Studios, announces the opening of the Hickville unit on Monday, February 7. Classes will be conducted every Monday in the Masonic Temple on West Nicholas street, between 3 and 5 p. m.

Miss Brower needs no introduction to the residents of Hickville and Syosset. For a number of years she conducted her own studios in both of these towns. The Shirley Mae Studios teach all routines to the popular music of the day with piano accompaniment.

Miss Brower pointed out that the group lesson offered by the Shirley Mae Studios compare with other schools semi-private lessons since each pupil is given individual attention. The social hour also conducted under the supervision of Miss Brower will teach all the popular dances of the day.

The Shirley Mae Studios have gained the reputation of releasing the latest fashions long before any other school on the island. The Big Apple is an example of this. According to Miss Brower, the Shirley Mae Studios opened their 1938 season releasing this still popular sensation.

G-Man to Speak At Adelphi

Roscoe E. Vetterli, special agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, New York City, will address students of Adelphi College, Garden City, at an assembly to be held in the Recreation building on the College campus Tuesday afternoon, February 15, according to an announcement released today by Miss Barbara Biall, president of the Phi Gamma Delta social science fraternity.

The typical farm family needs at least 150 pounds of meat for each person a year. Most farms have the necessary equipment for home butchering to provide most of this amount.

Hicksville Girl In-Fencing Tourney At N. Y. Club

Miss Helen Mroczkowska, former Hickville high school star athlete, now attending Hofstra College, and Mildred Stewart qualified for the National Junior women's fencing championships which are to be held at the New York Fencer's club next Tuesday.

Miss Mroczkowska has made an enviable record at the Hempstead school continuing where she left off at the local high school where she was a three-letter performer.

AT LAST, an official statement has been made about that Hickville-Westbury high school controversy that to origin two weeks ago when Hickville invaded the Oyster gym for a league basketball clash. That statement, (it may seem like a good one, but I don't) says that the Hickville-Westbury court games are cancelled for this season unless a playoff is necessitated at the close of the campaign. Why do I disagree with the superintendents? Well for one thing, the public is cheated out of one of its scholastic games on the north shore, and secondly it is necessary. As for my first reason, hundreds of rabid basketball fans would not dream of missing this game with such an spicy dash of local basketball, as usually, the championship has hinged on the outcome of these struggles. Taking this away from the fans will undoubtedly lead to the gate receipts and did you ever hear of any school giving up a handful of real shekels. Well, I don't until now. Yes, you can bet your boots that there are many disappointed fans, young and old alike, who are that formal get-together of the school officials of two schools. And as I said above, this ruling is quite unnecessary. I still think so. Why did that game get out of hand? Yes, Merrill Yarotzky stung Van Yahres in the stomach. Sure, but hasn't Yarotzky been banned from competition for the remainder of the season. I am quite sure that the same applies to Van Yahres. Fitzgerald kept Van Yahres out of the Oyster Bay gym last week and probably will continue to keep him out so long as the team functions as it now is. Why did Yarotzky and Van Yahres start swinging on different occasions at the handbox Westbury gym? Perhaps they were never disciplined and as fighting in the gym had been overlooked in past games, why couldn't it be overlooked this time? Yes, I think both Yarotzky and Yutler are far too lenient with their players as discipline is concerned, but their latest efforts in banning of the two participants shows that they are going to the right side. If you ever think into consideration that the officials have had something to do with that unportantlike game? No, and perhaps I didn't too, until Friday night I saw two real referees in action. I mean the Nerries who officiated at the Sea Cliff and Hickville game local high school gymnasium. I am inclined to believe after watching two good officials on the floor that most of the refs on the north shore are really incompetent when it comes to officiating. Bryant and Rooney included. They handled the Oyster-Hickville game. Not that these men don't know their rules well and again I am not sure that they become when they do call a violation of the court rules, they are very hesitant and almost apologetic but it as if they were inclined to doubt their own judgment, but because they can't handle the young men who are performing on the hardwood floor. The Nerries there told the players last week what they did, and in such a fashion that the boys always believed that they were in the line. The school officials should change that ruling and let the two teams meet at a neutral court and have a few officials that the boys fear and respect. TAKE 2 TO 1. IF YOU readers, don't take any bets on this north shore amateur league race as far as the ultimate winner concerned, no matter what odds are offered to you. My humble opinion after three weeks of play has been completed in the circuit. Before the season got underway on January 9, I was told to favor the St. Dominic Parish club of Oyster Bay, since then upsets have been occurring almost nightly and no part in the prognosticating of the final standings clubs. This list of upsets reached a climax last Saturday night when the local Westbury Alumni tripped the here-to-forthcoming Saints 21-19. Some are inclined to lean towards the Glen Cove team as the ultimate winner of the league race because he fine array of collegiate stars. The Sebas are carrying up the league since Roslyn nipped them 22 in the opening game of the year at Roslyn, but their "Rocky" Famighetti is able to keep that lineup off another story. It must be costing Famighetti all his fortune to keep the players around and the question at stake is how long can he afford to conduct this thing of his players on a losing basis. Roslyn is another favorite, and so is St. Dominics, despite loss to the Westbury Grads. Mineola, with Gene and Warren Jaegels in top form, are conducting a fierce battle with the leaders. Glen Cove, Roslyn, Mineola and St. Dominics all given chances of copying the bunting but you can rest assured that Hickville and two Westbury teams are going to record a great number of more upset victories making unpredictable outcome in the NCAL. LIGHTS. ONE ZAISER set a new high for the Amateur league scorers this season, when he threw in 22 in last Thursday against the Tally-Ho club of Westbury. Zaiser likewise is tops as far as foul shots are concerned. Zaiser has 16 to his credit, seven more than Jimmy Vaccio of Westbury. Then Golden Glove continues to pack 'em in at the Hempstead Riding Academy. And more will come now that the big boys are cropping. I wonder if Ben Wright still has ideas he is a topnotch fighter. I've heard rumors that Don Escosa A. C. is itching for a crack at the Hickville Bombers. They claim that they ran rings around Roslyn in a recent scrimmage. I'd like to see that myself. It would be a battle of giants vs. middleweights. Speaking of giants, those Glen Cove Sebas have sole team of boys ranging from six feet and up to six feet six. Gus Ganszennuller, ex-Sea Cliff high star, and recent of Columbia University, was a mighty hunter person last Sunday night in the Hickville-Sebas game. All during his scholastic career, Ganszennuller was successful in beating Lou Kappattier out for the lead in scoring crown. Sunday Kappy had an off night and got but four nearly points and Gus thought was the time for sweet revenge. Gus threw up 41-28 shots and didn't even dent the rim. Yes, he's inclined to hang up his shoes.
