Railway Express History Told In 'Wells Fargo' at Playhouse

From Pony Express to Air Express from a handful of darcdevil riders of the plains to heroes who carve new pathways in the skies! This is the most recent and most comprehensive of the Railway Express Agency, the institution which sprang into being almost overnight as an emergency war-time measure and which has remained to take its place as one of the most important groups in our modern commercial life—the original origin of the origin of the origin of the origin. In Frank Lloyd's epic film, "Wells Fargo," which opens next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Playhouse Theatre, with a cast of more than 200 headed by such outstanding performers as Joel McCrea, Frances Dee, Bob Burns, Lloyd Nolan, Porter Hall, Henry O'Neil, Robert Cummings, Ralph Morgan, Mary Nash, Jack Mack Brown and Barlowe Boardman.

A complete novelty in the way of a picture told in the hillbilly country, dealing with hillbillies, and to a large extent played by hillbillies, is promised by "Wells Fargo," a Warner Bros. production that opens today and tomorrow.

With a large cast of stars—Humphrey Bogart, Penny Singleton, Louise Fazenda, Nat Pendleton, Frank McHugh and others—the story is the hillbilly one about a big-time wrestling outfit which hits the hillbilly spots in the hills and gets taken for a sleigh ride. And just to give an idea of the fun in store for you—Louise Fazenda plays a lady blacksmith who is made to see the light of the cream, soap, coconut pie—and a male beauty contest are the ingredients used in "Love on Toast." The beautiful Frances Dee, who plays the girl who is co-featured, Miss Arder, publicity girl for a soap contest, engineers the contest and Payne, who was entered without knowing it, wins.

At last "The Lone Ranger" is on the screen! The millions of red-headed American boys and girls who have thrilled to the romantic cry: "High-yo, silver" on the radio for more than four years, at last have the opportunity to really see the hero in person, dashing about the silver screen today and tomorrow enacting adventures which have endeared him to the hearts of millions of children all over the world.

There are stars enough, laughs, tunes and gags enough for a dozen big picture shows. The picture is a real extra long and sparkling that make it Darryl F. Zanuck's top-bit show, in "Sally, Irene and Mary." The picture commences on Wednesday and Thursday.

Alice Faye and Tony Martin sing the tuneful songs you have heard, as they know how. With Fred Allen of radio's "Town Hall Tonight," twice as funny face-to-face, they lead the studio in a series of pepper-peppering frolicking to town.

Joan Davis, the knee-action gazelle, learns some Duraznos from the famous "Schmoozola" Marjorie Weaver, sensation of "Second Honey-moon," and Louise Hovio do things to Gregory Ratner, a blood-sucker, who has a champagne hank and a gleam in his eye. The cast also includes Barnett Parker and J. Edward Bromberg.

Music Hall Program Holds Over Easter

BY TAPPER
The good four-part program at the Radio City Music Hall will continue from press and public alike that it is being held for another week at the giant movie palace.

The second of the musical spectacle based on the fabled life of the 13th century adventurer, Marco Polo, and is entitled, as you probably know, "The Tale of Marco Polo." The second act of the program is the famous "Kamenoi Kamenoi" which is a musical comedy. The "Glory of Easter," a religious spectacle, is being presented for the first time in the history of the theatre. Leonidoff, more than 1,500,000 persons have already witnessed this pageant since its inception five years ago.

The second act of the stage presentation, "Mickey's Circus," in which more than 200 artists participate brings the "Life Among the Lowlys," Mickey Mouse, Minnie Mouse, Donald Duck, Three Little Pigs, and the Big Bad Wolf. Walt Disney coproduced by personally supervising, directing and producing the show.

A Disney Symphony, "Wynken, Blynken, and Nod" helps to round out the holiday affair, assisted as usual by the Rochester, Glee Club, Corps de Ballet, and Symphony Orchestra.

The feature film, "The Adventures of Marco Polo," brings to the screen the adventures of the 13th century explorer, who was discovered by Gary Cooper in the starring role. The second act of the massive program is the famous "Kamenoi Kamenoi" which is a musical comedy. The "Glory of Easter," a religious spectacle, is being presented for the first time in the history of the theatre. Reader's Spot

PUBLISHERS ARE awakening to the fact that the present generation must live in a continent world rather than in the Europe-North America world of other generations. The first phase of this awakening brought a number of histories of separate countries—of China, of Japan, of India. Now begin to appear histories of regions. The Far East, it is realized, is a geographical and historical and economic and cultural unit, and unlike old Gaul cannot be divided into "partes tres." Within two years have appeared G. Nye Steigler's "A History of the Far East" (Ginn and Company, N. Y., $4.75), Harold M. Vinacke's "A History of the Far East in Modern Times" (Ginn and Company, N. Y., $6.00), and Paul H. Clyde's "A History of the Modern and Contemporary Far East" (Frederick A. Stokes, N. Y., $4.50).

This latter text of 855 pages limits itself to two features particularly: first, the impact of the imperialism of the East on the West in the 19th century, and second, the challenge to western imperialism brought about by the rise of Japan to the position of a "so-called great power" in the 20th century. To understand either of these one must know China—so, "the scene is essentially China, which in a very true sense has been called 'The Middle Kingdom—the center of the Orient.'" Four opening chapters attempt to set the stage for the 19th and 20th century drama. The writing is factual and clear, aided by maps and pictures. It leaves the reader to make his own interpretations.

THE OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS has recently republished the well-known translation of the Annals of Confucius by the late Dr. Soot-hill, former missionary in China and later professor of Chinese Literature and Language at Oxford University. It was originally published in 1910 and soon went out of print. Now it is restored in a new and attractive and readable edition (50c), edited by his daughter, Lady Dorothea Hoare, whose own writings on China are classic. The volume's translation of the Annals of Confucius in Chinese and in English is one of the most complete and accurate of any published. It is a volume of the World's Classics Series, there is no excuse for a world-minded publisher to do not share in the wisdom of the Wise Men of the East. These words of Confucius—sagest of the

'Once Is Enough' With Ina Claire at Henry Miller

Reviewed by EDGAR ALLEN
Although "Once Is Enough" shines from the marquee of the Henry Miller Theatre where Gilbert Miller is presenting the renowned Ina Claire in Frederick Lonsdale's latest comedy, the drama bears its name. It is so happily in the tradition of sparkling comedy hits that have roiled from the Miller office that a second viewing is not to be denied.

Those of us acquainted with the Lonsdale brand will not be surprised to learn that "Once Is Enough" is a comedy of the wit and brilliance depends for its laughs on Miss Claire's tremendous comic ability in situations made to order by the playwright. Thus we find Miss Claire as the Duchess of Hampshire angling for the retention of her husband who is tottering on the brink of divorce, and as a mother who is made to see the light before Miss Claire has completely demolished her enemy, and everything ends happily enough.

But as mentioned before, the plot is relatively unimportant when you have a cast headed by Ina Claire and supported by such luminaries as Hugh Williams, Nancy Ryan, Viola Keats and the others in a snappy, ribbiting comedy from the pen of Mr. Lonsdale. A report is necessarily given in its description of the wit and brilliance of the actress' performance; only personal attendance will suffice. And, rest assured, you cannot go wrong on "Once Is Enough."

Huntington Theatre Shows Shirley Temple's Latest Film

The Huntington Theatre has booked a remarkable run of pictures for the coming week, extending from Sunday through to the following Saturday, and besides these you don't want to forget that the Huntington is having one of the most thrilling serials of all times, "The Lone Ranger," which is now so popular on the radio. The third episode of this will be seen on Saturday and Sunday.

On Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Shirley Temple will be seen in "Rebecca of Sunny-Brook Farm." You have watched Shirley grow up in the time of her childhood, and you will never fail to please you. She will not fail in this picture.

The same program will be the double feature, "Love, Honor and Behave." An equally big picture will be shown on Thursday and Friday. It is "Adventures of Tom Sawyer" introducing Tommy Kelly. This is a vivid drama of Mark Twain's immortal story which has been brought to life on the screen in naturalistic and a truly great cast of players. Live again the adventures of Tom Sawyer, one of the most thrilling motion pictures ever filmed. In the cast with Tommy are Jackie Moran, May Robson, Alvin Karpis, Victor Jory, Nana Bryant and Ann Gillis.

And then as a second great picture on the same day is "The Goldwyn Follies," which began a week's engagement at the Loew's Valencia Theatre yesterday.

'The Goldwyn Follies' Opens For Week at Loew's Valencia

The most amazing array of stellar talent ever assembled in a single production is presented by Samuel Goldwyn's magnificent Technicolor musical extravaganza, "The Goldwyn Follies," which began a week's engagement at the Loew's Valencia Theatre yesterday.

Drawing from every field of entertainment to augment its stellar cast, headed by the incomparable The Ritz Brothers, Andrea Leeds, Ella Logan, Jerome Cowan and The Gorgeous Goldwyn Girls, "The Goldwyn Follies" is a musical extravaganza of grand opera's Helen Jepson and Charles Kullman; the American Ballet, and the musical stage's favorite comedian, Bobby Clark.

His 25 years of picture-making to carry his name, "The Goldwyn Follies" also marks Goldwyn's swing to the color picture. The picture is a musical extravaganza of grand opera's Helen Jepson and Charles Kullman; the American Ballet, and the musical stage's favorite comedian, Bobby Clark.

PROBABLY THE MOST UNEXPECTED and most amazing development in the Post-War period is the rejuvenation of the Turkish people. The old decadent Turkish empire has been reborn as the Turkish People's Republic—a well-organized, well-led, strong, and prosperous. This miracle, which has brought a whole people from being the western frontier of Asia to being the eastern frontier of Europe is the work of one of the most remarkable men of history—the great, soldierly Mustafa Kemal Atatürk, now known as Kemal Ataturk (Father-of-Turks). The story is told vividly in a biography by Hans Freyer, published by Oxford University Press. It reads like a historical novel. (Kemal Atatürk, N. Y., Hillman-Curtis, Inc., $3.00.) It cannot have happened and happened and it will just these details—and yet, one knows that this is what happened. So we shall not quarrel with which publisher you read, so informative, and to which the publishers have contributed so greatly with their issue.

By FRED J. NORTH

I SAW THIS ITEM in Linotype's SHINING LINES and could not risk the temptation of passing it along. It should be a fitting answer to those who continually moan for the "good old times." You know the type?

"If there were a few million more persons like The Goose, there would be more progress made in the world. In case you don't know, The Goose is a farm woman who writes a piece every week for the Carroll County (N. H.) INDEPENDENT. She lives near a bend in the road called Goose Corner, and her husband, Alvan Hatch, is a former salesman who can look speak and span even when milking the Jerseys.

"The Goose does not hanker after the 'good old days.' She likes modern improvements. Inventors and those who market inventions are saints to her. She gives thanks for new gadgets that save time and make life easier. But let her tell what she thinks in her own way:

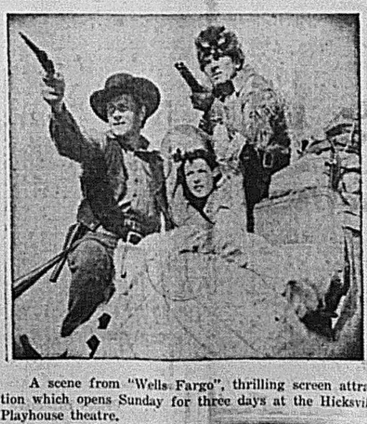

"The Goose numbers among her acquaintances a few nostalgic mourners for the "good old times." She owns right up that she doesn't share in that feeling one millionth of one per cent! And she also owns up to a fervent desire to give the yearners a dose of the "good old times" for which they profess to long.

"As a starter they might dump their radios on the bon-fire, run their automobiles into Lake Winnepesaukee, yank their telephones from their desks, throw the electric light switch and give some stinking kerosene lamps. Roads of course are now spoiled for good old times. Might try a sled trail as a fair substitute for the once-upon-a-time highways. Supposing you can't scare up a horse for the pump, wonder what might be done with such backward looking rapture, just pick out some windswept place, stick your feet in a tub of ice-water and ring a bell. Of course you will miss the joys of fastening buckles with fingers too numb to bend.

"And also of course you are going to miss the gay sensation of coming home to an ice-cold house. Then those hilarious mornings when the pump was frozen and you melted snow to water the crickets. If by any device you can duplicate the disadvantages of the good old times, by all means go ahead (or more accurately back) and enjoy yourself—if you can. The Goose will just love watching the fun, and continue to take advantage of the present comforts and all."

GREAT LITTLE HOLLAND

Holland may be little, but it owns the longest air line in the world. Has the largest canal locks in the world, thinks nothing of bailing out an ocean and planting bulbs where once the fishes swam. As the great financial ability did it not once buy Manhattan Island for $247.

FURNACE-COIL furmite FACTS

FURNACE-COIL hot water follows the furnace fire. On mild or warm days, the fire is low or out and faucet-water is lukewarm or cold. On cold, heavy-ficing days, lack of automatic fuel control may easily drive temperature sky-high. Results are super-heated water, danger of scalding, steam condensation in the pipes which causes hammering and banging, rusty water that spots the laundry, discolors fixtures and is disagreeable to use, weakened tank and piping which soon break down, damaged faucets. . . . Before heat can pass to the house, the furnace-coil takes all it can absorb. The remainder may be sufficient for the house, but on cold days, the heat thus taken by the furnace-coil generally means the difference between a comfortably heated home and one that is under-heated. . . . Finally, the cost of furnace-coil hot water is substantial, amounting to 20% of the entire fuel bill or one-third in every-five stoked in the furnace.

From the Sidelines

By BERNARD F. MCGUNNIGLE

POST MORTEM—The CHAMINADE TRACK team thoroughly trounced the Hicksville harriers 49-28 in their third annual meet on Monday afternoon in the Chaminaide Bowl. I am happy to say I have heard no after the game remarks, revealing that the Orange and Black lads realize the wisdom of such words.

They might well have offered excuses for this setback, because in truth they have had little or no time to prepare for this meet with one of the county's best athletes in the county. I am an alumnus of Chaminaide but that is not the reason why I say they are one of the best teams around; the records of the past years the results which will crop up in the near future will bear out my contention. So it was no disgrace to the Crimmon-clad runners.

The lack of practice was evident especially where the runners were concerned, but the talent on hand ruled great potentialities for the Orange and Black during the 1938 season. Chaminaide has been working out of the winter indoors and the layoff caused by the fall of last week perhaps came as a respite from an intense training siege.

I have received comments from local and from Chaminaide concerning the Hicksville team and without doubt, I was told that within a month this Hicksville team will be war watching.

HB LIMELIGHT—Miss Helen Mroczkowska was just an average athlete at Hicksville high school. It is true Helen competed in athletic events for the weaker sex. To me her latest comments, I believe that "weaker sex" stuff is the wrong word but she really was no exception.

Then Miss Mroczkowska began her college career at Hofstra in Hempstead and of late, this local miss has been burning up the sports pages with her athletic accomplishments.

Helen was a first stringer on the hockey team, and in grand style all year. But when she went out the fencing team, she immediately became a sensation. It's very interesting to say the least because I'm certain she had little opportunity to wield the foil prior to her entrance into Hofstra.

Helen made the team easily at Hofstra and impressed the metropolitan circles with her amazing speed and stamina. But in the last few weeks, she exhibited a form that she accompanied the Hofstra fencing team down to Virginia where the team was entered in William and Mary College Invitation on last Saturday.

Her teammates fell before the lightning thrusts of the seniors in the East but Helen went on steadily on, win each after match, until she came to the semi-final. It was unfortunately for this quiet, smiling girl to lose out when the individual championship crown was to be won. But she took her loss with a smile and to win that trophy in '39 and I wouldn't be at all surprised next year, the papers announced in glowing head-licking girl wins collegiate fencing title.

COUNTRY DATA—The Hicksville Field club may open their 1938 Nassau-Suffolk league campaign on a new diamond if the Field plans materialize in the near future. The ball park is situated off Old Country road behind the Old Country. The field is only an eight minute walk from the site of the village and it will afford the spectators to view the game from their cars if they so desire.

This new field question has many possibilities of being a high school field in a sorry state of disrepair and apparently no remedies are ever going to be used to rebuild the diamond into a playable field and as the change to a new park.

So kind readers, just bear with me until next week, the actual facts of this new baseball diamond will be revealed.

HEAR AND YON—An Apology—I am mighty sorry about not publicizing the fact that Pat Nasso which was played last Friday between the 1937-38 high school varsity and a quiet crowd of ex-schoolie stars. But I couldn't quite remember I was not aware of it. I had been told that it would be played and then informed that it wasn't and I was I do... I'm glad Pat received some mazzina as he was entitled to it... Why... well, you see in championship game with Mineola, Pat's teeth were shattered by the Maroons and he had quite a dent in his hands... That final court pose on Sunday honey... Boy what spills... ask Tom Harmer and Petrone about it... The Boscos deserved a better... they played classic basketball... Who was the... Art?... (After the game, I mean)... Farina Zalkoski is expected to fill in that slot for the high school this season... John is a good... too... No snow left but what's next?... Adios I'm studying Spanish too, I mean I'm learning some from the boys but that's the only one fit to be...

LET'S PLAY A GAME

By W. M. SMITH, JR.
Next time you go outdoors try one of the following: TRAIL RELAY: Divide the team into two groups in the line. The line moves up and the line that gets its leader back on the mark first wins. If any player refuses to overcome the obstacle, he must go back to the mark and start over. THE BULL'S EYE: Paint a bull's eye on a backyard post. Players throw pebbles at this mark, trying to hit the center. A stationary mark of this kind would do much to improve the marksmanship of women. Let Mother have a try at it every time she comes out to hang up the washing.

Game of Thrills Sees Defeat Of Hicksville Five; Tuckey Scorer

The St. Leonard's Catholic club nipped the Don Boscos AC 36-35 in the closing seconds of the final season Sunday night at the former's court. North, the high man for Hicksville, threw in a beauty from the side but Tuckey tied it up and when Tuckey was fouled several seconds later, the Brooklyn outfit led 34-33 with a minute and a half to go. North tossed in a set shot but Tuckey came right back with a one-hander and the game was all over.

Tuckey's sensational shooting capped individual honors for him the spotlight for the Boscos.

High School 5 Trips All Stars

Borduk Sinks Wining Shot As Jayvees Root Epworth; Come Out On Top 25-24

A foul toss by Bill "Birdy" Borduk in the last half minute gave the Hicksville high school career a 25-24 decision over the All Stars last Friday night in a benefit game for Pat Nasso at the local high school gym.

In the evening, the high school Jayvees drubbed the Epworth quintet 33-18.

The Orange and Black had to come from behind to overtake the stellar All Stars which was composed of such well-known local court performers as Bob Lindeman, Pete Darmachray, Joe Leonard, Phil Pignataro and Harry Schuler. The All Stars led 18-10 at the half mainly through the fine shooting of Leonard, but slowly the scholastic night their way back in the last two sessions and finally tied the count at 24-24 on Fredly Fluckinger's layup.

Borduk Fouled

Borduk fouled a foul shot at this point, and the Hicksville veteran calmly sank the deciding tally.

"Bachelor Born" one of the outstanding comedy hits of the current theatrical season. Now it's its 11th week at the Lyceum Theatre, holds the unique distinction of catering to the tastes of both sophisticated and unsophisticated audiences. On the one hand, George S. Kaufman, famous playwright, whose script completely out of the room in the of the funniest comedies of the season, and on the other, Deanna Durbin, celebrated film star, who represents the rising generation, said "I enjoyed every minute of it—it's swell."

Battled by the problem of making this copper plates stick to the wall of the director's room of the New York World's Fair 1939, the management turned to an "unemployed" citizen who has dabbed with adhesives as a hobby. The New York Benjamin K. Albrecht, of Bowayton, Conn., invented a glue for the purpose so successful that he no longer can call himself "unemployed." Chemists call it "first-rate discovery."

"Play Ball!" Pirates Start Field Club at Hicksville

It's Joe Penner, no less, caught by the camera during enthusiastic action in a back lot baseball game. The screen and radio comedian is an ardent devotee of the great American sport. He is currently starring in RKO Radio's adventure comedy, "Go Chase Yourself," in which he does just that via a crazy automobile-trailer.

Huntington Team Replaces Syosset Baseball Club as Opening Date For Hicksville Batsmen, April 24

The Huntington Pirates replaced the Syosset B. C. as the opening game of 1938 for the Hicksville Field club on Sunday, April 24th, it was announced today by Manager Phil Valenti. The game is slated for the local high school field.

The reason for the change was laid to the fact that Syosset will meet the mid-island combination on the following Sunday in the opening Nassau-Suffolk league game at Syosset.

The Pirates have plenty of backers in this initial season of the league and intend to demonstrate in the pre-season why their village folk are willing to wager on their copying the 1938 bunting. Practice Games Tomorrow, etc.

The Field club has been hampered greatly by the inclement weather but tomorrow at 2:30, they will play a practice game with the local high school nine on the high school field. This game should serve as a warm up for the strenuous season which lies ahead.

Quick-Witted Flyer

Few SHIP MASTERS ever being in a vessel with the rudder out of control, but if the hand control, or "stick," of an airplane snaps off when the pilot is in mid-air, it furnishes a problem to baffle the ingenuity of the most skilled aviator.

This predicament confronted Lieutenant Clayton C. Jerome, of the U. S. Marines, who was performing aerial acrobatics with his little fighting ship upside down at an altitude of 2,000 feet. For fifteen minutes he had been maneuvering his plane over the flying field at San Diego, Calif., during a practice flight in January, 1930.

While flying upside down the aviator attempted to right the aircraft and the stick snapped off at the socket. This left him hanging downward with his own safety belt holding him in the cockpit.

His first impulse was to snap loose the safety buckle and jump, but he hesitated. So are the words for travel: Ship, boat, rock, plane, train, car, bus, etc. If you walk, you crash into a bangor or glide across the bay into San Diego's zone and go.

CHILDREN ARE LUCKY

It is an ancient belief among seamen that children bring good luck to a ship, which may be one reason why trans-Atlantic liners usually have playpens for the thousands of children who cross the sea with their parents every year.

GREAT THINGS OF LIFE

All the great things of life, says Bruce Barton, are expressed by words of one syllable. Love, hope, joy, home, faith, So are the words for travel: Ship, boat, rock, plane, train, car, bus, etc. If you walk, you crash into a bangor or glide across the bay into San Diego's zone and go.

HOW DOES HE DO IT?

WHY PAY MORE?

ONCE UPON A TIME....

Once upon a time (and not so very long ago, either) replenishing the pantry needed a pair of stout legs and a well-filled purse—and after you made the rounds of the grocer and the butcher, the dairyman and the fruitman, both your legs and your purse were crying for mercy!

Thank King Kullen for changing all that! Today you shop at ease and in comfort in one of the world's greatest markets, with an unlimited choice of the world's finest foods gathered under one vast roof! Today, thanks to the amazing King Kullen system, you pay less—and save more—than you ever dreamed of a few years ago! Today shopping for food is a pleasant and profitable adventure — at KING KULLEN of course!
