PROMPT ATTENTION WILL SAVE TREES

Many trees damaged by the recent hurricane may be saved by prompt and proper attention, says Professor J. A. Cope of the Cornell Agricultural Extension Service. Treating the injured trees rather than removing them often saves time and money.

Partially uprooted trees present the greatest problem. Many of these trees may be saved if pulled back into place immediately and braced by cables in four directions. Care must be taken to prevent the drying of roots. Soil may have to be removed around some trees to allow the roots to go back into place when the trunk is straightened. Many partially uprooted trees are unsafe and should be pulled back into position immediately or cut down. The grade line should be restored as nearly as possible to its original position by replacing soil washed away by flood water and by removing root-suffocating

Trees with split crotches may be saved if they are promptly bolted and cabled into normal position so that the wounds can heal.

It is particularly important to cover the wounds with a dressing and a few inches from the wound will be little natural closure of the wound.

Potato Balls
1 pint potato balls
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
Pare the potatoes and throw into a pan of cold water. With a French vegetable cutter, cut balls (or cut into cubes) and let stand in cold salted water until wanted. Craps may be used for soup or mashed potatoes. Heat butter in a sauceron, add the potato balls, cover closely and cook slowly, shaking pan over the fire to cook them evenly. Test with a dining needle. When ready to serve, add salt and chopped parsley.

Or they may be boiled and melted butter added, or fried in deep hot fat, as French fried potatoes.

from the Sidelines

By BERNARD F. MCGUNNIGLE

WITNESSING Hicksville's second straight crummy performance, I took note of the various sideline cracks who advanced their opinions for the sudden up of the County Champions.

It was great. I just gave me much more enjoyment than the game. (I doubt if anyone will ever see Hicksville's showing on Sunday against Westbury.) One couple, in particular, was arguing over the fact that the boys are keeping too late hours, the night before games. One stated that last Saturday night, most of the players were out until past 4 a. m.

The other in the controversy believed that the real reason for the current slump resides itself down to the fact that very few are turning out regularly for practice sessions.

I heard other opinions but the two mentioned above perhaps the best opinions in the whole lot. I know little about the hours that the players keep but I don't think it is above those boys to stay out for extra jog on Tuesday or Saturday night but although it is quite detrimental to a player's health and condition, there are only a few who are doing that and their absences from practice are undoubtedly the real reason.

It is regrettable that Louis Millerotte doesn't whip about these practice sessions, what with 12 and 14 showing up from a squad of 28. It's wonderful that the boys are always confusing the players from one another and it's even funnier when you see a player standing, scratching his head when he thinks through his position and he apparently knew nothing of it or he might have cleared a hole for the carrier.

Sunday's performance was the worst yet for a Hicksville and one more contest played in such circumstances and the Black and White are out of the County. Millerotte must do something and the first thing in my estimation, is to make those bozos come out for the five workouts during the week.

Merrill Yarotzky's kicking feats Saturday in the Port Jervis game brought about a general lookup into the books of the Hicksville high school football notes.

Yarotzky booted a pair of field goals in addition to scoring a touchdown and two extra points. Yarotzky set a new mark for field goals with these two, making a record that stood for a decade. Louis Millerotte has been the only other scholastic player to kick a field goal for the Orange and Black. Lou kicked one in his entire career while Yarotzky booted two in one contest.

The high school eleven have their eyes pinned on the local north shore title following their easy win over Westbury. I don't like to discourage the boys, but that win was absolutely nothing as Port is about the easiest club to win in the whole county. Mineola, Farmingdale, Westbury and Great Neck are the clubs that count, and it is the ability of the Orange and Black to get more than a few points from these clubs.

CHATTER— The football setup on the north shore in the semi-finals is quite a funny situation. The season is beginning to assume the appearance of a league without a real scoring team. Everyone in the circuit has come up with strong defensive units while they have apparently overlooked the more important thing, powerful offense. Even Hicksville and Westbury, two teams who usually run up big scores, lack the stuff to draw an opponent. . . So, the outcome of the race is in question until some club can develop that old spring punch.

The Plainville baseball players are becoming a bore with the proceedings of the pennant fight. Sunday they play the rubber tilt with the Wyandack Jays, starting at 12:30. Immediately following the game, they intend to play the Jays in a football game. . . Ironmen.

Even Hicksville and Westbury, two teams who usually run up big scores, lack the stuff to draw an opponent. . . So, the outcome of the race is in question until some club can develop that old spring punch.

The Plainville baseball players are becoming a bore with the proceedings of the pennant fight. Sunday they play the rubber tilt with the Wyandack Jays, starting at 12:30. Immediately following the game, they intend to play the Jays in a football game. . . Ironmen.

Yarotzky's kicking feats Saturday in the Port Jervis game brought about a general lookup into the books of the Hicksville high school football notes.

Yarotzky booted a pair of field goals in addition to scoring a touchdown and two extra points. Yarotzky set a new mark for field goals with these two, making a record that stood for a decade. Louis Millerotte has been the only other scholastic player to kick a field goal for the Orange and Black. Lou kicked one in his entire career while Yarotzky booted two in one contest.

The high school eleven have their eyes pinned on the local north shore title following their easy win over Westbury. I don't like to discourage the boys, but that win was absolutely nothing as Port is about the easiest club to win in the whole county. Mineola, Farmingdale, Westbury and Great Neck are the clubs that count, and it is the ability of the Orange and Black to get more than a few points from these clubs.

CHATTER— The football setup on the north shore in the semi-finals is quite a funny situation. The season is beginning to assume the appearance of a league without a real scoring team. Everyone in the circuit has come up with strong defensive units while they have apparently overlooked the more important thing, powerful offense. Even Hicksville and Westbury, two teams who usually run up big scores, lack the stuff to draw an opponent. . . So, the outcome of the race is in question until some club can develop that old spring punch.

Title Hopes Fade As Locals are Blanked

Western Front And Hicksville In Scoreless Duel Sunday

Table with 2 columns: Hicksville (0) and Western Front (0). Rows include First Downs, Yds. by Rushing, Passes Attempted, Passes Completed, Yds. by Passing, Passes Intercepted, Fumbles, Yards Recovered, Kicks, Blocked Kicks, and Penalties.

The title hopes of the Hicksville gridiron eleven became a little more obscured Sunday afternoon in the opening league tilt when Western Front of Glen Cove held them to a scoreless tie at Hicksville.

Hicksville could not crash through the visitor's sturdy wall and so they sought victory via the route, but although they were completed a goodly number of 123 yards, timely interceptions by Western Front averted disaster for the visitors.

In fact, one of those mis-directed passes almost brought about a setback for the County Champions when Ed Zisk intercepted in the last period and ran 34 yards down the sidelines unnoticed to have Scotty McNamara dump him out of bounds on the 15 yard line.

The two teams battled almost all of the game at midfield and neither club appeared to be exerting any pressure to go ahead. Louis 'Wee Wee' Yannotti ran well for the Black and White but each time his blockers failed to shake him loose.

The absence of Ronnie in the backfield was keenly felt. Ronnie's booming punts and his accurate passes were badly needed in last week's fray. Dick was forced to substitute with the absence of teeth but he should be back in uniform for Sunday's tilt with Locust Valley.

The lineup: W. Front (0) DE-Luca, LG-Rykowski, LT-Schubler, C-Phillips, RT-J. Carty, RE-Pubins, RB-Mayer, RH-F. Carty, FB-Darmohar, Donahue. Score by Periods: 0 0 0 0 0 0.

With two victories already on their record, the Ironmen again played the Cooley Shamrocks and as usual defeated them soundly, 24-7. The Ironmen rolled up 18 points in the first half, scoring being made by Ray Onganda on a pass from Art Flinger.

Jays Upset Plainview In Play Offs

High School Makes Bid At Mineola

The Nassau-Suffolk Junior Baseball playoff is now tied at one victory apiece for the Plainview Pirates and Wyandack Jays following the Jays 4-2 triumph Sunday afternoon at Wyandack.

Elmer Gaulton, the Cubs mound star, scored his third win of the year as he let the shagging visitors down with eight scattered blows. Plainview bunched four singles for their lone runs in the third frame but were helpless before his slants in the latter frames.

Pete Taormina was hit hard in the opening innings and although he matched Gaulton pitch for pitch in the last four frames, the Cubs were unable to make up the deficiency.

The lineup: Wyandack (4) Schlitt ss 3 1 1 1 0, Henry 3b 4 0 1 1 0, Donahue c 4 1 1 0 0 0, Idome cf 4 0 1 0 0 0, Yannotti rf 4 0 1 0 0 0, Russo 2b 4 1 2 1 2 0, Kurz 1b 3 1 1 0 0 0, Gaulton p 4 0 1 0 0 0, McCormack rf 2 0 0 0 0 0, Massa rf 1 0 0 0 0 0.

La Salle Kaydets See Tough Schedule For Grid Season. Off to a flying start with a 20-0 victory over Kingsley School of Essex, Felix N. J. Coach Herman LaMark's gridlers at La Salle Military Academy at Ogdensburg, Long Island are looking toward their game with Farragut Naval Academy, the highest spot on a tough schedule.

Fifteen veterans returned to the Kaydet squad including Jim Schwartzstein, sensational half-back and Charley Geiger, whose play at guard last year won him his place on this year's first team.

Other veterans on the first string are Bill Barron, Dave Fitzgerald, tackle; end O'Connor, tackle; Jimmy Lynch, quarterback; and Frank Lee, halfback.

After much delay and handling your little note received. To say the very least, I was quite surprised and interested in just what methods you intended to employ in making my life just a little more unpleasant.

To start something it down I, Woodie Karan, (note spelling) had no part whatsoever in giving you the unpleasant publicity concerning a football player's career. I tried my hand at writing for this spot, but with little or no success. I gave the whole idea up and stuffed it over Freepost way and got a job.

However, to date I have checked my car for bombs and the like, also noting the people I don't know that never spoke to me still don't speak other than that things are about the same. However, if you had cherished hopes of cracking down my standing in the town by spreading gossip and things, I might warn you the results will be disheartening because that has been tried before!

Orange-Black Scores First Season Win

The Hicksville high school eleven scored their first win of the season Saturday afternoon when they blanked Port Washington, 26-6 at the winner's field.

Engelstern put Hicksville out in front in the first period by carrying the pigskin over from the four yard stripe after the Orange and Black had converted fifty yards. Yarotzkey marched from placement.

Kicks Field Goals. Yarotzkey kicked his first field goal at the end of the first period from the twenty yard stripe. In the second quarter, Merrill scored the extra point and promptly added the extra point.

In the third period, Yarotzkey booted a home field goal, this time from the 15 yard line, missed the point after touchdown a few seconds later when Eisenmann scored.

Couch Yutler inserted the second stringers in the closing period and the Portsters took advantage of this leniency by pushing Marshall over for a touchdown.

The lineup: Hick (26) Pt. Wash. (6) LE-Manelaki, Jensen, LT-Kappalter, Davis, RB-Takana, Nulist, C-Cucan, Johnson, RT-Lauk, Toumierre, RT-Nicoll, Hope, RB-Berth, Hay, RB-Engelstern, Clark, LH-Yarotzkey, Iverson, RH-Cheslock, Marklund, FB-Eisenmann, Swan.

YELLOW JACKETS TEST HICKSVILLE SUNDAY

The critical eyes of the football fans will be glued on the Hicksville club on Sunday afternoon when they tackled the Yellow Jackets of Locust Valley in the latter field.

In their last two starts by the Locust Valley Hornets and the Ironmen Front eleven of Glen Cove, the Black and White have had a big disappointment to the inhabitants and should they lose their, lethargic playing style, the Jackets, all hope of County Championship will be lost to "nil".

Millerotte has tried in vain to shake them from their slump in the last two weeks but they are before them. The mid-Islanders are expected to regain their true stride at the expense of the Locust Valley outfit.

With it. There's nothing but bankruptcy ahead of the colleges and the college football season is expected to be a disaster for that great autumnal festival, for that great autumnal festival carries the entire financial burden of the college.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL FACES GREAT CRISIS

With it. There's nothing but bankruptcy ahead of the colleges and the college football season is expected to be a disaster for that great autumnal festival, for that great autumnal festival carries the entire financial burden of the college.

For years arguments were waged among football men as to where the college football season should be held. Some, such as Minnesota, Notre Dame or Nebraska, could hold the honor of being the only college that play football for keeps.

A truer test, perhaps, was an offer made to occur last autumn in Washington, D. C. when Coach Ray Flaherty sent his practice squad to Boston to take a practice game against the George Washington team.

George Washington's star back had been lifted from the field when he was broken leg and another player was injured. The pros weren't playing dirty, they were simply too good and they hit too hard.

Warns the Car Behind

Chief Borley was chairman of the meeting Wednesday night. He introduced John Wertheim, chairman of the board of fire commissioners and John Puvogel, former chief and commissioner. Mr. Puvogel compared the efficiency of the present day fire fighting equipment with the materials used by firemen 25 years ago when Mr. Puvogel joined the Hicksville department. Jericho fire department was led by Chief William McDonald and Flahview department by Chief Conrad Steinhilber. A letter was read at the meeting from Dr. Elwood A. Curtis, president of the Hicksville board of commissioners, who was unable to attend. He had been prevented from attending by the prevention of fire and loss of property and loss of a tract. Arrangements for the venture, rally were made by committee chairman, Chief Steinhilber, Second Chief Charles J. McDonald, Chief Gleason and fire captains Charles Green, Captain Canale, Edward J. Hamilton and Staffed men.

The Hicksville high school band gave rendition of music during the program. E. H. Lickarum, superintendent of Hicksville public schools, who also spoke pointed out that the band is part of the educational program carried out in the district. He congratulated the firemen and residents of Hicksville for making the first fire prevention program a success. Addressed students.
Arthur F. Bell, supervising instructor of the Firemen's School of Instruction, outlined important points of a comprehensive fire prevention program to be followed by home owners all year round. He displayed enlarged photographs of fire scenes and pointed out the cause of each destructive blaze.
Yesterday morning Chief Dell concluded a series of talks before Hicksville students. He spoke at the assembly program of the junior high school. Earlier this week Captain Joseph Sweeney addressed pupils of the senior high school. East street and Nicholai street grade schools and St. Ignace Parochial school. He was accompanied by Chief Harry Borley.

Hosts Strike State Crops Bureau

Every year killing frosts struck the York state on October 2, 3 and 4, but little damage resulted. This year, however, the weather bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture at Cornell.

Report for the week ending October 14, 1938. "Recent frosts have put the ground in good condition for fall plowing, and a crop of alfalfa is being cut. Wheat seedling and early corn is up to a good stand. Corn is a heavy crop, and many farmers have enough to refill their bins."

Under-planting is underway the farm harvest still continues. Late cabbage indicates a crop. Apple picking is in progress and Koffler pears and apples are being harvested.

Programs for Farm and Home Service on current topics, services, warnings, and seasonal advice is presented to farm and home listeners in New York on the Cornell station WFCB.

Many of the speakers are personally known to farm people of the state including college speakers, teachers, and extension agents and home demonstration agents and 4-H leaders. About 125 talks are given each month.

White Leghorn High for Year Contest Reveals

The white Leghorn from the Hobart farm at Hobart, N. Y., was high bird in the contest. New York egg laying test headquarters for the 51-week test just concluded. The best based on 230 eggs scoring 348 and the western test at Stafford, high bird was also a Leghorn, from J. A. Hanson, Corvallis, Oregon. The mark was eggs and 337.60 points. In scoring systems, eggs must weigh to ounces apiece, or 24 to a dozen.

New York state pen of Leghorns, owned by the Hobart poultry farm, led all others in egg weight at both tests, with 3358 and 3524.55 points. A western pen was second, with 3426 and 3495.45 points.

Each pen in the tests started with year 13 birds. In the only the net highest in each year counted, but for the first time, just concluded all birds tested and not only a selected pen. Mortality losses were very low, says H. C. Ogle, the Cornell poultry department supervisor of these projects.

Among the first five pens in central test, in second place, one from Kander of New York, N. Y., whose pen had 42 eggs and scored 3475.10 points. Two other New York pens ranked among the first five in the western test, the Leghorns of Spring Brook poultry farm, Seneca Falls, in third place, and the Rhode Island Reds of Robert Rogers, Waverly, in fourth. Average egg production at the western test was 204.3 eggs in 51 weeks, and 202.1 eggs at the central test.

REPAIRING HURRICANE DAMAGE TO FRUIT TREES

If your young fruit trees were whipped about and loosened or the roots broken on the windward side of older trees by the recent storm, they should be staked and soil packed around the trunks and roots by the strong winds blowing. Banked with earth for the winter. The preparations which have developed at the Cornell station, which have been covered in a special issue of the Cornell Bulletin, should be provided by wiring the trees to a stake, using old rubber hose or other padding to keep the trunk from chafing against the stake. The braces should not be removed until the trees become well established in the soil; they may require the greater part of another year.

Winter Sleep Of Animals Revealed

By W. J. HAMILTON, JR.

As woolen blankets are removed from cedar chests, screens replaced by storm windows, and farm houses lashed with insulating material around the base, the little folk of fields and woods make the same efforts to prepare for cold weather.

Squirrels are busy preparing great stores for the time of food scarcity and the little deer mouse makes rich caches of beechnut, acorns and various nuts. The weaver drags limbs and fresh twigs to its undercellar, erects a many-layered, fire-battle winter toward warmer climes. The birds huddle south, and seals leave the arctic water of Bering Sea and Alaska to winter in the subtropical waters of central California.

The woodcock and skunk cannot flee to the Carolinas of Florida. Since their instinct to store food is not developed, the only thing they can do is pass the winter as their scanty necessities, the reptiles, etc. Deep in the earth they prepare a warm, dry nest and sleep away the days and nights of snow. This long winter sleep is called hibernation.

Don't Cuddle Your Son, Ford Advises

Speaking as a veteran of three quarters of a century of uncertain fortunes, Henry Ford, in an interview published in the current issue of Woman's Day, refuses to list the boys of today as a class of disorderly men. So far as Mr Ford can see, times have always been disordered, and boys have grown into men capable of fighting disorder and maintaining a means of work which they can know and enjoy.

"Don't cuddle your son too much," Mr. Ford advises parents. "Expect him to work. Be ready to give him a reasonable reward for good work faithfully done. Let his work be regular. Lack of chores is a great drawback in modern town city life, but worthwhile chores can be found. If there aren't any chores to be found there are sure to be household belongings to be repaired and repaired."

"Hands are made to work with and to learn with. Handicrafts are more than trades. They are means of getting a better understanding of people and properties, a way of gaining interest and experience—life's most precious assets."

"When a boy is made to try to fix a leaky pipe, or to mend a furnace, or to tune an auto engine he is usually on his way to a better life. He is learning that it is not supposed-to-know that attitude, one of the means of all diseases for young and old."

"Don't force a boy into work which he can't enjoy. All of us have inborn aptitudes and deficiencies. Work ought to be useful and work ought to be enjoyable."

"You can help your son most by helping him to discover, not by trying to force him to learn. Both teachers and parents are responsible for the child's learning of their own knowledge. That's not teaching. A good teacher is merely a good guide for your boy. Your job is to help him help himself, not to help him shun responsibility."

"Ford's school is the first question asked of a new scholar is 'Who's your boss?' The answer isn't the president, my teacher, my parents. It's not the Supreme Court. It's the boy himself. Let your boy assume a boy's responsibilities. It's hard to help a boy prepare himself for life anywhere except where he is living. The idea of sending him too far from home for what you hope will be his education is a popular fallacy. A boy prepares himself for life where he lives and where he is living."

"As a workman any boy should think first about safety, then of orderliness, then of accuracy and speed. The more he knows about the age of increasing speed, an age in which an accurate worker must be a reasonably fast worker."

AGRIGRAPHS

Uncle Ab says that power flows to the man who knows how to use it.

The Guernsey herd maintained at Cornwell consists of between 25 and 29 milking cows.

Among New York state animals, the best jumping mouse, chipmunk, woodchuck, skunk, raccoon, and some bats hibernates during the winter.

New York state has 62 counties, 152 towns or townships, 8,199 school districts, 324 incorporated villages and 2341 special districts.

No poultryman should be without poultry-house lights. One light is started in the fall it must be continued regularly until April 1, poultry specialists say.

An old truism says that every farm can afford at least one pig, and no farm can afford not to have one. The revised Cornell bulletin F-411 tells about swine production in New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca, New York.

Virginia Verrill, Green-eyed, but far from a monster, is Virginia Verrill, who brings her charming blues voice to Jack Haley's new variety program, which will be heard over the Columbia network on Fridays beginning October 14 (WABC 7:30 to 8:00 p. m.). Despite her youth, Virginia is a radio veteran, for she was only 15 and a student at the John Marshall high school in Hollywood when she started singing for a number of commercial programs.

Mustard Sauce Recipe Aids Flavor of Fish

Flavay is a fish in the side of many a housewife and well it might be if she is accustomed to serving fish amid joyous "yups" and "yows" from all members of an otherwise happy family.

When one takes the time to think it all over, the logical conclusion is that there is something wrong with the fish. Fish is really good but in its simplicity is similar to a beautiful outfit without gloves. It needs a final touch, which is best furnished in the way of a sauce that is a sauce and just that final touch.

Mustard Sauce 1/2 pound of butter 3 yolks of egg 2 tablespoons mustard 1/2 cup cream 1/2 cup lemon juice 1 pinch of salt 1 pinch of sugar 1/2 teaspoon onion

Cream the butter, add the yolks of egg, mustard, flour and gradually pour in the bouillon, stirring constantly, then cook. Season with salt, pepper, sugar and salt if necessary. Put in the lemon slice which should be taken out when served.

ON THE BAND STAND

THEME: Those peddled song sheets are illegal! Pilfering the lyrics of a song for publication in a song sheet without the credit and permission is a theft. Every five-cent song sheet bought on the street corner almost always comes from the same source. The commission that the boys who peddle them receive and the chances they take are not enough to warrant the effort to assure them a neat day.

Behind this racket are bootleggers who left liquor with a few and now set up printing and paper plant for these sheets. A few weeks ago a large moving van was cornered by the police and in it was printing materials and paper for these sheets.

Behind this racket are bootleggers who left liquor with a few and now set up printing and paper plant for these sheets. A few weeks ago a large moving van was cornered by the police and in it was printing materials and paper for these sheets.

Nassau Health

By Nassau County Department of Health

Appendicitis is a common and frequently serious surgical condition. In the five years from 1932 to 1938, inclusive, 290 Nassau county residents died from this disease, an average of 52 deaths per year. More than three-fourths of these deaths could have been prevented if the victims had received prompt surgical attention when the attack began.

The appendix is a part of the intestinal tract and is attached to the large intestine in the lower right quarter of the abdomen. Appendicitis is an infection and inflammation of the appendix. One of the first symptoms of appendicitis is pain, which usually radiates over the entire abdomen. Within a relatively short time, nausea and vomiting develop, as well as fever. Constipation is also characteristic. In a few hours after the onset, the pain becomes more severe and centers over the appendix.

Normally, the intestines are constantly in motion when food or drink are taken. In an attack of appendicitis, this motion is stopped.
