

Back To Sound Government Is G.O.P. War Cry

Finance Committee Starts County-wide Drive

It is not enough to insure the integrity of Nassau County's local government, but to return to state and national, economically sound, rational and constitutional governments.

John H. Eden of Kings Point, Great Neck chairman of the second assembly district of the United Republican finance committee, declared today in a statement which adds impetus to the county-wide drive for funds launched last week.

The United Republican finance committee has succeeded the Nassau County Republican finance committee since all contributions are now to apply to county, state and national campaigns.

"Faced by the appalling expenditures and unconstitutional activities of our national administration, it behooves every patriotic and honest American to join in a strong, united effort to return this country of ours to its people and to abolish forever the domination of our laws and our Congress by one over-ambitious executive and his theoretic advisors," Mr. Eden stated.

"The United States of America is composed of three divisions: County, state and national administrations. The county obviously is the basic foundation of the entire structure, but no one division can properly function without the others.

"It must, therefore, be realized fully that to insure the integrity of our own local government is not enough. In two years our national government has spent over 14 billion dollars and taken in less than seven billion.

"Our national government, in other words, has been wantonly overdraining its account since the day of its inception to the tune of $3,500,000 a day and the toll is ever-increasing.

"A continuance of this race towards potential insolvency directly affects not only every human being in Nassau County, but the actual existence of the nation itself.

"It is therefore with feelings of deep concern for the principles of American government, as defined by the constitution of the United States, that we urge every thinking citizen to contribute to his or her utmost to the United Republican finance committee for Nassau County in order to defeat the destructive, unsound and un-American 'New Deal' form of government," Mr. Eden concluded.

DeWitt L. Sage is vice-chairman of the second assembly district for which Mr. Eden is chairman.

Charles A. Blackwell is general county chairman and Paul G. Pennoyer of Locust Valley is county treasurer, P. O. Box 202, Glen Head.

The second assembly district divisional chairmen were announced today as follows:

Frederic H. Clarkson, chairman for North Hempstead; Miss Ann Mullon, vice-chairman. Charles E. Morrison, Great Neck; Ambrose Bullen, vice-chairman for Great Neck. Henry A. Alker, Port Washington; Conrad C. Goodard, Roslyn; August Gleichen, Mineola; A. L. Cole, Manhasset; and Henry Hewitt, Trverett, East Williston.

Mrs. Edward L. Cumming, chairman for Oyster Bay; William H. Seaman, chairman for Glen Cove; Mrs. Jacqueline Leach, vice-chairman for Glen Cove, and Jeremiah W. Robinson, Central Park.

The executive committee for funds last week General Chairman Blackwell declared:

"The average voter wants to feel that he is helping. There will be no contribution so small, no contribution too large.

"A mile will be as acceptable as a million."

Paul G. Pennoyer, treasurer, stated:

"It has been said that one does not become a good citizen by voting, but votes because he is a good citizen. This principle could be paraphrased to: 'One does not become a good citizen by contributing, but contributes because he is a good citizen.'

Chop together a third cup of walnuts and the same quantity of almonds; mix with the flour and add two-thirds cup of seedless raisins which have been washed and dried. Cream together a half cup of butter and one cup powdered sugar; add alternately the dry ingredients and a half cup of milk. Long Island Residents Form New Opera Group Headed by Mrs. August Belmont of Syosset, and including many other Long Island men and women as officers, the newly formed Metropolitan Opera Guild met in New York this week to lay plans for the completion of the organization.

"The purpose of the Guild is not that of money raising," Mrs. Belmont said in describing the work of the new organization. "Our aim is to stimulate interest in the opera and to increase actual attendance in this way, and only in this way, can the permanence of the opera as an institution be assured."

"While it is true that many who listen to the radio broadcasts of opera aid the Metropolitan in return for the pleasure they find in the program, there has been no direct way in which they might do so. Now, through sustaining membership in the league they can help support this great cultural institution."

For exclusive privileges for Guild members include attendance at a dress rehearsal, opera lecture, preference in obtaining tickets for special performances and informal group discussions with opera stars.

Among the Long Island sponsors of the Guild are Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Mias, Paul D. Cravath, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gibson, Mrs. Christian Holmes, Mrs. Robert Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mackay, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Payson, Mrs. Edward R. Stettinius, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Stimson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. F. McCann. Miss Peggy Thall, well known secretarial organizer, is in charge of the vast amount of office work connected with the drive for membership.

Collegiate Aid Addressed By Art Instructor

Auxiliary Hears Plans Of Nassau College Center

The regular fall meeting of the Farmingdale Auxiliary for Collegiate Aid was held in the Home Economics room on Tuesday evening. Plans were discussed for raising money to aid the Nassau College Center and to increase the student loan fund of the organization. While there is a sum in the treasury, it is yet too small to be of use to needy students.

The speaker of the evening was W. H. Patterson of the Art Department of Nassau Collegiate Center. He told of the facilities and growth of the college. In spite of rumors to the contrary, the college has not suffered by the opening of the Hempstead branch of New York University. The registration is practically the same as last year, about 425. Each institution fills a different need and the friendlier relations exist between them.

The college now has three buildings instead of one. The old laboratory of the Curtis Co. was salvaged and made into a chemistry laboratory. The former cafeteria was reclaimed in the same manner and now hot meals are served to faculty and students. By the ingenuity of the students, a theatre has been constructed from old packing boxes and used lumber. Here plays are given and much talent has been discovered.

Chapel exercises are held every two weeks at which noted speakers address the students. While attendance is not compulsory, the room and corridors are filled to overflowing.

This year Mr. Waterson declared, "The value of the Nassau Collegiate Center, having finished the two-year course which is provided by this institution, the students are obliged to go elsewhere to continue their education. Already sixty have been accepted by the leading universities in the East, South and West, with full credit for the first two years of college work.

After the meeting, refreshments were served by the girls in the Home Economics Department under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Valenta.

More than 75 members of the Talbarn Post of the American Legion of Farmingdale, their families and representatives of other Posts about the Island are expected to attend the mammoth card party which the local Legionnaires are giving tomorrow night at the Bethpage Club.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Farmingdale unit are also sponsoring the affair and tickets at a reasonable price may be procured from members or from the Legionnaires themselves. They are also on sale at the stores where posters advertising the affair are on display.

The card party is being arranged by a large committee, including J. A. Leonard, present commander of the Post, and Leo Kantor, who will be installed as head of the Legionnaires later this month. Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary have charge of the refreshments that will be served throughout the evening.

Park District Here Favored

That 45 per cent of the total cost of the park should be borne by the Government is the hope of the committee if it is possible to consummate the plan before the expiration of the PWA. The committee also believes that under the proper management a considerable revenue could be obtained to offset the maintenance.

The report concludes as follows: "The plan submitted to the direction of the Town Law that the buildings shall be non-commercial buildings, not only the public but also the Roosevelt Memorial Association against the development in the future of repulsive amusement features and that under the plan submitted it will be possible to develop the park not only as a true recreational ground but as a true memorial to Theodore Roosevelt."

It would be willing to go the whole way in copying it as questionable. At any rate there is enough in it to provide interest for thought. The lovers of full-figured photographs of his ship "Joseph Conrad" now on her way around the world. Two of them are exceptional, for they show men at work on the topsail yards shortening sail in a heavy blow.

"House and Garden" for October is devoted chiefly to fall furnishing and gardening. In the department is a description of the latest changes in the interior of the House of Years, which is a full-sized one-family house located on the ground floor of W. and J. Sloane in New York City. Katherine Cowdin describes the interior decoration of the General Electric grand prize small house—a modern home furnished and decorated in the modern manner. Further along in the magazine there is to be found a wealth of practical information about fall planting. Under the title "No Cook and a Kitchenette," June Platt gives some recipes that sound highly desirable. On pages 66-67 are diagrams and a description of a most ingenious method for building a small house that can grow. It is called "a little house with prospects" and its prospects are certainly excellent for each addition makes the house more attractive than before. Cold weather seems to be definitely a matter of aid and comfort from an furnace an item of considerable importance in our lives. We can guarantee that anyone who has a furnace problem on his hands can get plenty of aid and comfort from an article entitled "Heat." This is the third of "House and Garden's" monthly building supplements and is filled with practical information about the heating problem. In the back of the magazine, under the heading, "Home Financing," there is a question and answer department run for the benefit of the home owner (actual or prospective) who may need practical financial advice in connection with his property. The "Hoppers" column in the front advertising section shows a multitude of useful and attractive gadgets for the home.

"The Model Craftsman" for October is as fine as ever and carries plenty of designs and descriptions of how to build model trains, engines, aeroplanes and speedboats. Old hands at model making need no introduction to this wonderful magazine. To others who like to work with tools now and then but who have not as yet been bitten by the model-making bug, we recommend "The Model Craftsman" with these solemn warnings: "Be prepared to (1) become a regular reader, (2) set up your own home work shop and (3) devote your spare time for the rest of your life to the all-absorbing and fascinating art of model making. It is a bad disease, this model engineering, and there are thousands of people in this country who are patient but ardent sufferers. Best of all the plans in the October number, we liked those for a two-foot, gasoline-powered motor boat that can develop a speed of 24 miles an hour. Sailing enthusiasts should like the plans for a model of the quain-Breton fishing boat and for the model railroad engineer there are plenty of plans of cars, engines, etc., from which to choose. If, after reading "The Model Craftsman" you develop a bad case of the model-making disease and disappear to a cellar, work shop which you leave only occasionally to sleep and now and then to attend to a lady neglected family and business, don't say you weren't warned.

"The October 'Equipe' is as full of good things as ever. We don't know how the editors manage to do it. With appeals to so many varied tastes, it is impossible to recommend anything in particular. The cartoons are rough, rude and very funny and, as for the printed matter, the purchaser will certainly get his money's worth.

If you do nothing else this month, get, borrow, steal or, if you must, buy a copy of the current "National Geographic Magazine." This is probably good advice for every month in the year, but for this month it is most important as Admiral Byrd writes the featured article, "Exploring the Ice Age in Antarctica." This is a marvelously simple, unassuming and straightforward account of what has been going on at the bottom of the world for the last few years. We could say a lot more, but the best things to do is to read for yourself. There are numerous photographs which will give the reader an excellent picture of the life and conditions in Little America. Also in the same number are 24 pages of illustrations in full color, an account of an expedition in motors across French Indo-China and a short report on the second stratosphere expedition.

Our old favorite, "Ballyhoo," bobs up again in its usual riotous manner and, in addition to plenty of hearty laughs (see particularly the bottom of pages 24-25) the reader is offered four prize contests. We haven't tried to latter, but they look like good fun for contest and puzzle addicts.

Business Men Approve 2-Hr. Parking Limit

But Ask Town Board For Three-Hour Night Restriction

In a resolution endorsing a two-hour parking limit in Oyster Bay between the hours of 9 a. m. and 11 p. m., the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday asked the Town Board to include in the ordinance now in preparation a provision forbidding parking for more than three hours at any time of the day or night.

E. Floyd Griffin, Charles Gillman and David Bernstein were appointed to present the resolution to the Board at its next meeting.

Leon J. Deming, Stanley Kulis and Thomas A. Baldwin were named by President Bernard H. Powers to meet Councilman Howard C. Smith in an effort to secure more favorable hours for a garage collection in the business streets of Oyster Bay.

The Rev. Dr. George E. Talmage and E. Floyd Griffin were asked to secure information concerning the cost of installing street signs at three entrances to Oyster Bay.

Mr. Deming reported that data for a pamphlet describing Oyster Bay had been compiled and President Powers appointed him chairman of a committee comprising Sidney Oliver, Stanley Kulis and Wil-

Red Cross Course To Open In Oyster Bay October 17

The class is open to persons over 16 years of age.

Bloodhound Used To Find Giannotti

The first bloodhound used in Nassau County for years was brought here last week to search for Anthony Giannotti, 50-year-old Bywater crossing watchman, who left his home without explanation on September 30. The bloodhound was the same one used in finding the sort of Grover Whalen and was brought to Nassau by plane by Sergeant H. A. Gay of the state police. After a two-hour trek through the woods the party, which included Detectives Pat Shanley and Leroy Hauser, gave up the search and returned the dog to Armonk.

When ready to attach electric cookers, toasters or grills for cooking see that the cord unit is first placed in the socket of the utensil, then plug in to the base plate which supplies your current. This is the best way to guard against short circuits caused by inexpert handling.

I.R.R. Taxes Doubled Since 1918 but Fares Remain Unchanged

The tax bill of the Long Island Rail Road Company last year was $2,595,547.05.

That is five times what it paid in 1910. It is double what it paid in 1918—yet its commutation fare rate today is exactly the same.

The Federal Government, the State, Cities, Towns and Villages served all received tax revenue from the Rail Road.

And this year the Long Island will pay more. For its real estate tax has been increased, its New York City License tax has been doubled in rate, while the rate of the Federal Capital Stock tax has been increased 40 per cent.

The Long Island Rail Road Company is the largest tax payer on Long Island and IT PAYS ITS TAXES EVERY YEAR. It is the largest individual contributor to public benefits derived from taxes—education, police and fire protection, health and sanitation, street widenings, highway building and other improvements.

Since 1910 the Rail Road's tax bill has been $42,000,000.

The Rail Road's expenses for grade crossing eliminations, taxes, wages, fuel and basic material costs are on the increase. Every fair-minded citizen understands that no business can long continue if it sells its goods for less than cost. The largest part of the Long Island Rail Road's revenue comes from commuter travel. It is to help balance outgo and income that a raise in commutation rates is requested.

The increase in annual taxes since 1918, when present commutation rates were fixed, about equals the annual increase in fare asked for at this time.

Aquatic Club Dance Oct. 12

Edward P. Carr Helps Select Best American Athlete

An old fashioned barn dance will be held at the Bayville Aquatic Club on Oyster Bay Harbor, Saturday evening, October 12, with the Northport Hill Billies furnishing the music, the decorations and refreshments will be in keeping with the occasion and the club members and their guests are expected to gather from far and near for a real good time.
 Every year a tribunal of 600 outstanding leaders of the world of sport is selected from all sections of the United States to determine the athletes of this country who by his performances as a competitor and by his example and influence as an amateur did most to advance the cause of sportsmanship during the year 1935, and once again Edward P. Carr, president of the Bayville Aquatic Club has been invited to serve as one of the tribunal.
 Mr. Carr has been actively engaged in athletics for the past 25 years both as a competitor and as an official; was a member of the 1904 and 1908 Olympic teams, and was attached to the Athletic section of the Inter Allied and A. E. F. championships in Paris in 1919, and the winner of 200 trophies in track and bicycle racing.

Reporters View Town Road Projects As Tappen Holds 12th Annual Inspection

Supervisor Harry Tappen's 12th annual road law held Friday with reporters viewing work and plans on TERA projects and county road improvements in the Town of Oyster Bay.
 More than 24 miles of "shoulders" have been added to roads of advanced macadam throughout the township in an effort to cut down from most mishaps, the salvage material is obtained free of charge from contractors who are putting down concrete roads and is carried to the desired locations by trucks. The material is rolled by TERA labor.
 Other outstanding improvements are three major drainage systems of South Street, Oyster Bay, Country Road, Hicksville, and Oyster Bay Road, Locust Valley; two new highways at the Plainville-Farmingdale Road, at Bayville Avenue; a water "sump" at Hicksville and a seawall on the Glenwood-Sea Cliff shorefront.

Projects completed this year or under construction are:
 South Street, Oyster Bay, Drain—2,600 feet long from Sammis Creek to Pine Hollow Road, three feet wide, employed 30 men a week until finished.
 Plainville—Farmingdale Road, first private contract job now under construction by Frank Paraco, of Oyster Bay, cost $40,000. TERA road is main arterial highway between Hicksville and Farmingdale, is important link to Bethpage state park and Nassau County Sanatorium.
 Old Country Road, Hicksville, drain, from Duffy Lane to Broadway, distance 9,000 feet, with four foot pipes. This $170,000 TERA project, expected to care for most of Hicksville's drainage problems, will take a year to complete, employs 20 men a week.
 Hicksville "water sump" now under construction as important aid to conservation of town water. Cost $11,000 to county.

Registration Days Oct. 12, 19, Nov. 5

Qualified voters in the Town of Oyster Bay must register in order to cast a ballot in the election November 5. Registration boxes will be open Saturday, October 12, from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m.; Saturday, October 19, from 1 p. m. to 10 p. m.; and Tuesday, November 5, from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. The same registration day apply to all incorporated villages in the Town of Oyster Bay.

Rally Day Supper In East Norwich

Rally Day week-end will be observed by Wesley Church, East Norwich, by a supper at the church, which will be served to the members and friends of the church by the Ladies' Aid at 6:30 tomorrow evening without charge.

Dr. Lester Ward Auman of the First Methodist Church of Jamaica will be the speaker and Miss Gladie Penney of Oyster will give readings. The morning service on Oct. 12, which is Rally Day, will be at 10:30 a. m. at the Wesley Church. Dr. Foster B. Perry's sermon will be entitled "The Honing Instrument." Communications

To the Editor:
 After reading your editorial under the caption of "Two Dollars Each" in the issue of September 26, 1935, I must admit I was amazed at its simplicity. If it were not for the fact that the proposed fare increase was such a serious matter, the whole thing might be taken as a huge joke. While I must admit that the phraseology makes all the difference in the world—your editorial certainly was cleverly worded—and surely it had a purpose.
 I am also aware that the editorial column is a newspaper's voice and usually reflects the honest and true thought of the paper on a subject on which it is assumed the paper is conversant. However, this does not seem to be the case in "Two Dollars Each."
 The implication in your opening paragraph is that the power to levy a $2 tax for the purpose of fighting a railroad fare raise lies entirely within the hands of A. C. Schlegel and the officers of the Farmingdale Civic Association. Nothing could be farther from the truth.
 First, let me ask when and where did I propose that a 42 cent per capita tax should be placed in next year's village tax bill? Do you interpret a report I made on a suggestion or resolution of the Nassau County Village Officials' Association which, by the way, was of a tentative nature subject to change, as my own idea? Always reported here had been published in the press of the county several times.
 Second, why do you set the amount at five or six thousand dollars for Farmingdale? Why not consult the last census figure (I have them) and then state the correct amount?
 Third, what has the public service commission got to do with the raising of a defense fund to fight a railroad? This is a law on the statute books of the State of New York, known as Section 106, Public Service Law.
 Fourth, how do you know it is a poor idea to levy a tax for defense purposes in Farmingdale, village, when every man, woman and child will be affected by an increased rail fare, to say nothing about its effect on the store keeper and business man?
 It may be that Farmingdale isn't particularly a commuting town. At

Western Front Downed 20:0 By Mid-Island Eleven
 The Hicksville Football Club opened its drive in the North Shore football league by trouncing the Glen Cove Western Front eleven by a 20-0 count at Hicksville on Sunday.
 Danahy kicked in 10 goals through left tackle to a touchdown in the second period to pave the way to a Hicksville victory.
 In the third quarter Harry Proctor dashed five yards off left tackle for the second Hicksville tally, and Kerbs accounted for the extra point on a placement. John Proctor registered the third touchdown on a one-yard line punt. It was Reimels at left tackle who opened up the line to allow the ball toters through.
 On next Sunday the strong Hicksville squad will clash with the undefeated Pelham substitute team, the Pelham Yellow Jackets in their second North Division Football League battle. The Jackies are leading the league with a victory over the Glen Cove Western Front and one over the Oyster Bay A. A.

 The New York Aggies football team got off to a whirlwind start on Saturday when they defeated the New Paltz Normal team 18 to 12 at the Farmingdale Field.

Oyster Baymen Open Season

High School Soccer Team To Oppose Sea Cliff
 The soccer team of the Oyster Bay H. S. will open their season today with a game on the local field against Sea Cliff H. S.
 The local team will be presenting a green forward line backed by a dependable and tried defensive line. Little is known of the strength of the Sea Cliff squad. They have played one game and that resulted in an 0-0 tie with Southside H. S. last Friday. Southside generally puts out a strong team and a lifer Sea Cliff indicates a Sea Cliff team above their usual standard.
 The local team will line-up somewhat as follows for this opening game.
 Stanley Piepol in goal with James Rosalino as alternate. The full-backs will undoubtedly be the veteran combination from last year, consisting of Louis Melillo and Stanley Pesnikovich. Frank Honemann is a certain choice for center half with two newcomers (Leon Hunter and Thomas Smith) as the supporters. Anthony Furgione, Earl Ashlin are certain to see action in the halfback line as substitutes.
 The forward line is somewhat uncertain as yet and it seems that a more definite idea of a permanent combination there will be possible after this opening game. Several candidates will be given a chance to prove their worth under fire. Included in this list are Leslie Smith, Frank Tom, Ben Madara, Arthur Skotlow, James Wanser, James Minneapolis, John Adams, Westport and John Reardon. In addition to the above, the following boys who have been in practice with the team some action. James D. Sussman, George Glavin, Zukowski.

 The game will be followed on Tuesday by another home game against Great Neck H. S. An interscholastic soccer two day tournament will be held at the local management game with the Purple and Gold Friday, October 11.
 The start the night mixing your cake with the best results.
