PROTECTING FRUIT TREES

BY DAMON BOYNTON

The orchardist is wise who takes precautions against winter injury by mice and rabbits to fruit trees. The time to think about it is in the fall, before it occurs, rather than after the damage is done. The best way to prevent field mouse and rabbit injury to the trunks of young trees is to guard them with galvanized half-inch hardware cloth, two feet high. This can be cut and rolled into a cylinder large enough to allow for several years of tree growth. The sharp cut ends can be hooked together and bent to close the cylinder so that mice can not get in.

Sometimes field mice work a few inches below the ground's surface. To insure against this damage, remove with a grubbing hoe the soil around the base of the trunk. Sink the wire cylinder from three to six inches, and, if possible, fill the place of the removed sod with cinders.

In sod orchards and in places where pine mice work below the ground, the use of poison bait helps to keep mice down. Poison grain can be prepared, or strychnine oats can be purchased. Directions for their preparation and information about sources of bait may be had from the county agricultural agent.

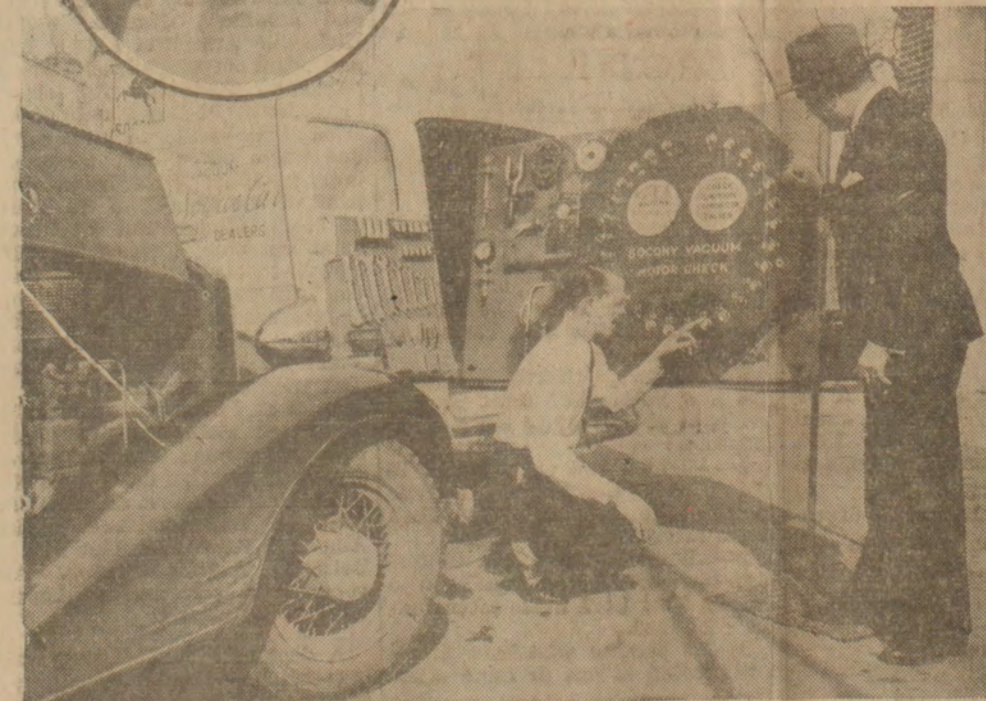

The first distribution of poison should be about the middle of October, and should be followed in November and again in February and March.

Ready in pamphlet form Seven Presidential Nominees Outline Party Issues

Recently, at the Herald Tribune Sixth Annual Forum, all seven nominees for the Presidency of the United States voiced what they believe are the campaign issues which America faces today. Speaking directly to the Forum were Norman Thomas, William Lemke, Earl Browder, John W. Aiken and D. Leigh Colvin. A message from Governor Landon was read, and the conference was closed with a broadcast by President Roosevelt.

Among the other notable speeches were those made by Herbert Hoover, James A. Farley, John D. M. Hamilton, Frances Perkins and Henry A. Wallace.

Because of the wide general interest aroused, the entire second day's sessions of the Forum—"The Political Issues which America Faces in 1936"—have been printed in pamphlet form. Nineteen speeches in full, eighty-seven pages. Don't fail to get your copy—15c each.

Democratic Praise

Gov. Landon's social security speech won the praise of the Democratic New York Times, which said: "Gov. Landon's speech . . . was the kind of address deplorably infrequent in political campaigns. It was a genuine analysis of the problem discussed, and in the simplicity of its presentation a real contribution to public misunderstanding of that problem."

Gov. Landon's attack on the proposed $47,000,000,000 reserve fund for the payment of old-age pensions is called as "sound as it was admirably presented." The Times contends that such a reserve is totally unnecessary, proved by experience of European nations. It approves the governor's analogy between a father's attempt to safeguard his children with his own I. O. U.'s and the government's piling up of bonds as security.

"A candidate with a conscience," is the way the Chicago Tribune characterizes the pension speech. "It has been some years since this country has had a President with that kind of moral stamina. We need one badly." Approval of the address comes alike from east and west. The Kansas City Times sees that Landon, if elected, proposes "to sort out any promising policies of the New Deal from the fantastic, and to make the promising workable."

The public reaction to Gov. Landon's speech on social security has produced greater evidence of approval even than his two farm problem addresses and his tax speech. Admiration for its clearness and his boldness in tackling such a difficult subject, in the midst of a campaign is freely expressed in the newspapers of all shades or opinion.

Conspicuous among those which approve is the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, which this week announced it could not support Mr. Roosevelt. It approves his declaration against accumulation of a huge fund, tax on payrolls, the great army of federal employees that will be necessary to administer the fund, and the omission of important elements of the population among beneficiaries.

"A $47,000,000,000 kitty" is the feature of the social security law, referred to by Gov. Landon, which prompts the Boston Herald to praise the Landon speech. "Gov. Landon's luminous, simply-phrased explanation . . . is enough to make people gasp," says the Cincinnati Times-Star.

The Buffalo News contends that the law is "not social security," agreeing with the governor that the present system "must be radically changed." He delivered some telling blows," says the New York Sun. Says the Portland, Me., Press-Herald: "His speech was one of the clearest and most forceful analyses of the act ever presented to the American people."

"Landon's best speech was his latest," says the Emporia Gazette.

Edna Holden of McKinley avenue, Hicksville, was the first person to submit the first correct title in the picture contest here last week. The picture was that of the late John Reinhard, well-known contractor and resident of Hicksville.

Swivel Chair OBSERVATIONS

with FRED J. NOETH

AS THIS IS being written, the last piece of copy for the Hicksville Centennial edition is being given to the printer. But it is with a feeling of dissatisfaction that the final copy is handed over, for it cannot possibly be the last piece. There will never be a last piece.

After searching around, digging into facts and fiction, talking with all old timers and new residents, considering what has been done and what can be done, we have come to the conclusion that the complete history of Hicksville will never be written.

Hicksville has had too varied a career to be confined to a comparatively few lines of type.

As each is followed and as each story is prepared, new and further fields to follow are opened up. Page after page is written and still there is more to do.

But the Centennial Edition of the Centre Island News is the most complete work that has ever been prepared on the history of Hicksville. True, many of the stories have been published at previous times, but never has there been an effort made to gather all the data into one publication.

In interviewing older residents, we found that many of them had scrap books and old newspapers and pictures on hand. Many of them were dug out of attics, closets, cupboards and library shelves. We can not help but feel that the Centennial Edition of Hicksville will be preserved by many. Some day those old residents of today will not be here any more to tell us of what took place. When that day comes it will be necessary to have written account for reference.

Who knows? Perhaps in 2036 when Hicksville is 200 years old this Centennial Edition will be very handy to the historian. We have some special water-proofing, weather-proofing paper. With this paper we are going to wrap up about 200 copies of the edition and store them away. Not to be opened until 1966.

One thing is certain. This Centennial Edition will not be the final word. We will continue to dig up more of those interesting little tales, pictures and incidents and continue to publish them.

A CLOSING NOTE — Father John H. Wistler in closing an account of the history of St. Ignatius' Parish on the 75th anniversary of the congregation, wrote a message that we liked very much. He said: "Thus we bring to a close the first attempt at writing a history of St. Ignatius' Parish."

Here was much searching of records account books, newspaper clippings, photographs. Interviews brought to light many homely incidents of the early days. Much more material could probably have been unearthed, but the present article aimed to set forth briefly, yet interestingly, only the high lights of seventy-five years of parish history. If, in reading of it, a nod of recognition is evoked by some fact or date, or a smile at some whimsical incident, or a kind word said over some name, the writer will consider his attempt a success.

We feel the same way. With the exception that we must necessarily beg the consideration of those who have unintentionally overlooked. It has been a big task and was the work of several people, to whom we are all grateful.

It was a pleasureable work . . .

We hope you enjoy it . . .

New things are not assuredly true things.

In Japan there averages to be 4,000 earthquakes a year.

"You had a month's vacation," retorted the boss, "you were no good for a week before you went away and the week after you got back."

A large proportion of hay fever victims who have taken pollen treatment before the season begins are satisfied with the results obtained. Like most things, and many people, sometimes, this doesn't work.

Women are more likely to talk in their sleep than men, according to Dr. Lawrence Gahagan of the University of California, who studied five hundred and fifty-nine students and found that three out of five had talked in their sleep at some time or other.

Suicide among primitive men was an act of self-preservation, according to Dr. Gregory Zilboorg of New York City, chairman of the Committee for the Study of Suicide. By dying, the individual entered eternal life, besides escaping the difficulties of this one.

Dr. Solomon Andrews made a flight in a cigar-shaped dirigible on May 28, 1863. He was mayor of Perth Amboy, N. J., and designed a balloon to which was suspended a shallow wicker basket. The flight extended thirty miles from downtown New York to Long Island City. This was forty years before Count Zeppelin began to blow up big balloons.

Dr. Blake Crider, Fenn College psychologist, lists these habits which make people dislike others: Gushing, tight with money, trying to be funny, goody-goody, bragging about love affairs, fussy, acting superior, making fun of people, correcting others, talking too much, too much dignity, monopolizing conversation, talking about personal troubles.

Zoning powers could sometimes be used to control premature subdivision. Where subdivision is inappropriate, the area could be placed in a building zone requiring an acre or more of land per family. This would effectively prevent the ordinary speculative subdivision. Or, the rural areas in which subdivision is in general deemed to be inappropriate could be zoned as 'open development' areas. In such 'open development' areas subdivision would only be allowed on special permit. Such permit would not be granted except in cases where subdivision was shown to be needed for actual building construction.

NEWS of the WEEK

IMPORTS OUTBALANCE EXPORTS

Washington, D. C. — Although the margin was only $9,000,000, Uncle Sam's imports exceeded exports during the first six months of the year for the first time in ten years. On "service" items, however, like freight and shipping charges, debt interest, etc., the balance in favor of the U. S. was $17,000,000, leaving a net favorable balance of $8,000,000.

LABOR TRUCE SEEN

New York City—Labor leaders in conference here indicate an amicable solution may be arrived at in the fight between the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization Workers of America. Basis of the settlement rested upon a continued effort of the A. F. of L. to organize the 500,000 steel workers of the country, a project originally started by the C. I. O.

ROBINSON-PATMAN TEST

Washington, D. C.—Much of the publicity that has surrounded the Robinson-Patman anti-price discrimination law since its passage last June may be dispelled in a suit just filed by the Federal Trade Commission against Montgomery Ward and Co., Bird and Son, of East Walpole, Mass., and one subsidiary; the raft-Phoenix Cheese Corporation and the Shefford Cheese Co. The accused companies have 20 days in which to answer charges of price discrimination.

INTUITIVE FOX-HOUND

St. Louis, Mo.—"Lady," a female fox-hound, dragged herself up to the registry desk of the Washington University Clinic, wagged her tail timidly and flopped wearily to the floor. Dr. J. V. Lawrence immediately ordered a comfortable dog-house erected on the hospital roof, where "Lady" will have her expected family, well attended.

UNOFFICIAL ELECTION POLL

New York City—From a wide variety of sources, straw polls, etc., local agencies announce the following unofficial revised figures of electoral college forecast:

	Certain	Likely	Total
Roosevelt	229	74	303
Landon	49	179	228
Necessary to win			266

Prevailing betting odds: 9 to 5 on Roosevelt.

GERMANY SHORT OF FOOD

Berlin, Germany — The thick steaks and plentiful supply of butter and fresh eggs that graced German menus during the Olympics have disappeared. Actually, the Reich's food supply is 20 per cent below normal. This was impressed upon 500,000 peasant farmers by Chancellor Hitler at the Bueckenberg Autumn Festival, who were urged to redoubled efforts in raising bigger crops.

LEADING N. Y. MERCANT DIES

New York City — Jesse Isidor Straus, long President of R. H. Macy and Co., and U. S. Ambassador to France until last August when he retired because of ill health, is dead at the age of 64. His great store is credited with handling 150,000 customers daily.

"Electric fences" may have a place on New York farmlands, but only when they are fully understood, and when reliable equipment is used.

"Sleepy Jim" CROWLEY FORDHAM FOOTBALL COACH, SAYS:

A close, hard fought game may be fun to watch, but it's really rough on the players. Every man is under an enormous strain and there's always the chance, that, if he isn't in A-1 condition, he may crack and throw away the game. That's why a coach likes to see everyone on the squad drink plenty of milk. There's nothing like milk to get men in perfect condition—give them husky muscles, steady nerves and plenty of reserve energy.

Gingerbread Fresh and Hot

A Gingerbread Desert Makes Any Day A Gala Day

When along comes' five o'clock and no dessert has been prepared, a feeling akin to panic greets many a housewife. And all for nothing, when such a gala dessert as gingerbread with molasses whipped cream is one of those hurry-up desserts that does a good turn for the housewife.

We all know that gingerbread at its best is hot. Not warmed over (which is good too) but piping hot right out of the oven. This means that the housewife can prepare the mixture at a few minutes notice and then put it in the oven just before sitting down to dinner. Dinner over, it is extracted from the oven, cut into good healthy squares, topped with big "gobs" of whipped cream and served.

GINGERBREAD

2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon soda

2 teaspoons ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup butter or other shortening
½ cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
2-3 cup molasses
¾ cup sour milk

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, soda, spices and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and molasses, then flour alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Bake in a greased pan. 8x8x2 inches, in a moderate oven (350 F) for 50 minutes, or until done. Three fourths cups sweet milk may be substituted for sour milk and soda in this recipe.

Make the Molasses Whipped Cream by folding 2 tablespoons of molasses into 1-2 cup cream, whipped. This makes 1 cup sauce.

A Dish for this Week

New potatoes, with their individual flavor and tomatoes, now heaped high in the market, can be combined in a tasty oven dish such as baked potatoes and tomato.

Baked Potatoes and Tomato
4 cups of raw, diced potatoes
1¼ cup of tomato pulp
1¼ cup of water
1¼ cup of oil or butter
1½ teaspoon of salt
1 teaspoon of paprika or pepper
1 small onion
Parsley

Wash, pare and dice the potatoes. Mix them with the other ingredients. Pour the mixture into a baking dish, cover and bake it in a slow oven from 250 to 350 degrees Fahrenheit for 40 minutes.

The New York State College of Home Economics suggests the following menu: Broiled hamburger patties, baked potatoes and tomato, a crisp lettuce salad with French dressing, cracked wheat bread and butter, and apple pie.

The first "kindergarten" was established 100 years ago in Blankenberg, Germany, and was called "Small Children Occupation Institute" or "Institute for Fostering Little Children."

Bruising is the most important single defect found in potatoes on the market; the way to make the potato crop more marketable is to avoid injury at all stages of digging and handling the crop.

STUFFED BAKED TOMATOES FOR BLOND BABIES

Wipe dry, several ripe tomatoes of uniform size. Cut off the tops to form a hinged cover. Scoop out center, leaving enough of the meat to form a perfect shell. Mince and saute one onion to a golden brown, add the pulp and simmer slowly for twenty minutes. Season with butter, salt and cayenne pepper. Add enough bread crumbs to absorb the juice. Sprinkle with chopped parsley. Thoroughly mix and stuff the shells. Arrange on an oiled baking dish. Bake for twenty minutes in a slow oven.

STEWED TOMATOES, SPANISH STYLE, FOR BRUNETTE BABIES

Mince a medium size onion, fry it slowly for ten minutes in butter. Scald and peel a dozen tomatoes, cut in quarters and add to the onion. Simmer slowly for one hour. Season with salt, butter and red pepper. Serve in a deep vegetable dish surrounded with croutons.

TOMATOES, AU GRATIN FOR RED HEADED BABIES

Scald and peel the required number of ripe tomatoes. Cut them in half, simmer slowly for thirty minutes. Season with salt and pepper. Pour in a colander to drain off the juice. Return juice to fire in a clean pan. Reduce until it becomes the consistency of thick syrup, then add a handful of grated Parmesan cheese, a few bread crumbs, and the tomatoes left in the colander heat until thoroughly mixed; then fill a casserole. Sprinkle top with fresh bread crumbs and bits of butter. Bake in a hot oven until brown.

County G. O. P. Hold Conventio At Police Hall

Littleton Speaker At Rally

All candidates of the Republican party in this area paid tribute to the leadership of Supervisor J. Russel Sprague for his diplomacy in cementing all schisms within the Republican Party, at a special county committee meeting in Nassau Police headquarters auditorium Friday night.

One after another commended Leader Sprague for his activities in behalf of the nomination of Governor Landon in the national convention, and for Justice William F. Bleakley of Westchester, as the candidate for governor.

Needed Here They Say

Suggestions that Supervisor Sprague will be drafted for state or national prominence brought calls from the floor of "No—we need him here." Returning the complimentary observances, Supervisor Sprague declared that credit for the eminence of Nassau in state and national affairs is due to the workers of the party here.

District attorney Martin W. Littleton sounded the call for campaign battle in the county, severely criticising the broken promises and unfulfilled pledges of the New Deal.

Candidates who appealed for an intensive campaign against dictatorial tactics of the federal administration included: Judge Nicholas M. Pette of Queens, nominee for supreme court justice; Congressman Robert L. Bacon, State Senator, George L. Thompson, Assemblyman Leonard W. Hall and Harold P. Herman.

"I have no apologies for what I may say about the President of the United States," Littleton declared, "We cannot be silenced or drowned out under the veneer of ethics destroyed by the President himself. He has invited criticism, as a candidate to succeed himself, upon his record of the last three years. Has he been so meticulous as not to break the ethics and decency of that great office?"

Breeders of pure bred sheep agree that the typical flock owner pays too little attention to selecting a ram.

Hempstead Unit Pushes Across 1 Goal Sunday

3,000 Watch Favorite Sons

BY JOE HEIM

The Hicksville football club continued to blast its way through opposition Sunday, defeating the Hempstead Alumni, 38-7, before approximately 2,000 spectators at the Hicksville high school field. Although greatly outclassed, the Alumni aggregation managed to push across one touchdown by virtue of the fleetness of Jack O'Grady, Hempstead back, who spryly 52 yards to cross Hicksville's goal line for the first time this season.

The Black and Whites lost no time in getting under way, taking Grady's kickoff on the Hicksville 31 yard line and rolling up first down after first down to march 69 yards to a touchdown before the game was five minutes old. Pollicio scored for Hicksville, plunging two yards around left end.

Opening the second quarter with the ball on the Alumni 39 yard line, the Bergolden continued their smashing offense, Millevotte, Proctor and Distler piling through the Alumni line for sizeable gains until Millevotte took the ball on a four-yard jaunt off tackle for the second Hicksville touchdown, with Glen Kerbs converting by a placement.

Hicksville's third score coming late in the second period found Ernie Distler downed on the Alumni 30 after returning Grady's punt five yards. On the next play, Harry Proctor slanted off tackle for twenty yards to the visitors ten yard stripe only to have the play recalled and Hicksville receive a five yard penalty for off-side. Taking the ball again, Proctor once more went to the ten yard line on the same play. Two smashes by Proctor and Steve Ruggiero advanced the ball two yards and on the next play, Proctor smashed his way across the line for a touchdown. Kerbs again booted the piskin through the up-rights and the score at the close of the first half was 20-0 in favor of the champions.

Hicksville Club Far Out Front In Grid Loop

Playing Surpasses All Opponents

A summary of football talent in Nassau county this season finds the Hicksville football club far out in front. After three weeks of play, the Black and White eleven has exhibited a brand of play that surpasses that of any of its opponents. Added to the ability of the eleven itself on the field, the reserve material, Harold Bergold has gathered, places the center island eleven as the only logical contender for the county championship crown.

The Westbury Fire Department Hicksville's closest rival this season in the northern division, while exhibiting plenty of speed and a smashing offensive, does not compare to the county champs of last season in strength of line nor in reserve power. The Champs displayed plenty of potential strength in downing the Manhasset Red Birds, themselves no weak sister, in their opening engagement this year.

Since then the Westbury outfit managed to tie the Valley Stream Red Riders, 7-7. Only lack of deception prevented the Red Riders from scoring a second time when in striking distance deep in Westbury territory. Undoubtedly from one of these two teams will be the contender for the championship be picked.

Western Front, now in first place in the northern division of the league, has half a game advantage over the Hicksville eleven and exhibited plenty of power in taking over the Locust Valley Yellow Jackets 15-0 in their opening engagement at Locust Valley.

Western Front, coached by Howie Baumann, and including a plentiful array of talent formerly with the Collegiate Centre may prove a dark horse in the championship race this season.

Officers and directors of the North Bellmore branch of the Needlework Guild of America met Tuesday afternoon in Exempt firehall, Newbridge road, to set dates for fall activities. Mrs. Isadore Lewis, club president directed.

The use of the hall was donated by North Bellmore Fire company no. 1 for the annual benefit card party scheduled for November 16 at 8:30 P. M. and for the annual meeting and garment exhibit on November 30 at 2:30 P. M. Mrs. Lewis announced. Five names were added to the cradle roll and directors promised to work for greater membership in this department.

Hicksville Wins Over Home Team

The 1936 edition of the Hicksville high school football team got under way Saturday afternoon by defeating the Long Beach high school eleven 19-0 at the Long Beach field.

In pushing across its three touchdowns, the Orange and Black eleven displayed a powerful offensive in all but a few spots where the teams play was marred by fumbles. Defensively, the line, which is made up of veterans with two exceptions, speaks for itself, and played a large part in Saturday's victory.

LEMON BISCUITS

2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons butter or other shortening
1 1/2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
2-3 cups milk
4 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon lemon juice (about)

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening; add lemon rind and blend. Add milk all at once and stir carefully until mixture forms a soft dough and follows spoon around the bowl. Turn out immediately on a slightly floured board and knead 30 seconds. Roll 1/4 inch thick and cut with 1 1/2 inch floured biscuit cutter. Combine sugar, lemon rind, and enough lemon juice to make a crumbly mixture. Place half of biscuits in greased muffin pans, spread with melted butter and the sugar mixture, and top with remaining biscuits, pressing lightly together. Bake in a hot oven (450 F.) 8 to 10 minutes, or until done. Makes 2 1/2 dozen biscuits.

Two Women Hurt In Rear Crash

Two women were hurt on Sunday night when the cars in which they were riding were involved in a rear-end collision at Sunrise Highway and Hewlett avenue, Merrick.

Rose Greber, 53, of 2 Magaw place, Manhattan, received contusions of the left arm and right foot, and Mrs. May Basil, 44, of 1866 34th street, Brooklyn, received lacerations of the right eye and contusions of the left leg. They were able to go home after Dr. Richard R. Mirow had given them first aid at the scene of the accident.

Mrs. Basil was riding with her husband, Edward, when their car struck the machine ahead of them. The first car kept on going, but Basil's was then struck, also in the rear, by a car operated by Charles Malock, of 18 West 107th street, Manhattan. Mrs. Greber was riding with Mr. Malock.

"Until a couple of years ago the natives of this small island lived principally on cornmeal and fish, with occasional side dishes of sugar cane."

"The birth rate, the division explained, remained about the same for years, never slumping, alarmingly, but never keeping pace with that on some of the other islands."

"Then came the tomato."

"Convinced that something besides sugar cane could be grown on St. Croix, the Government introduced tomato plants."

Well, there may be something to it, because since reading all about it, we have done some investigating among tomato eating families and this is the result.
